Turkish Jets Over Cyprus

Only Hours After UN Council Issues Appeal

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Turkish jet planes cruised low on reconnaissance missions over northwest Cyprus today only a few hours after the U.N. Security Council appealed to all nations to end flights over Cyprus.

Placard-carrying Greek Cypriots demonstrated outside the U.S. Embassy in Nicosia, shouting for the 400 or so Americans in Cyprus to get out.

"Murderers, get out," they yelled, expressing a conviction that both the United States and Britain supported the Turkish air raids last weekend. "Get out, you sons of donkeys."

Banners demanded: "Yankees go home. . . Britons go home."

A government spokesman in Ankara said the Turkish jets had taken off before receipt of the council's request to all nations to stop flights over Cyprus. He said they were fighters ordered to photograph but not to strafe or bomb Greek Cypriot positions or troop movements.

Greece charged that the Turks also flew over the Greek islands of Crete and Rhodes, both Tuesday and today, and demanded that they quit it.

Premier George Papandreou's Athens government warned Turkey that any further violations of Greek air space "would compel Greece to act accordingly."

Police in Morphou, 25 miles west of Nicosia, sounded the air raid alarm.

A loud explosion was heard from the direction of Xeros Port, six miles farther west.

United Nations headquarters in Nicosia confirmed the reappearance of Turkish planes but a spokesman said first information only told of one Turkish jet fighter flying low over the Turkish-held village of Kokkina.

The Morphou alert lasted more than an hour. Citizens said two Turkish jets roared over several times, apparently flying between Morphou and Xeros.

UN Council On Standby Alert Status

Issues An Appeal Aimed at Stopping Turkish Flights

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council went on a standby alert today after issuing an appeal aimed at stopping Turkey's jet flights over Cyprus and averting attacks by Greek Cypriots on the island's Turkish Minority.

Council President Sivert A. Nielsen of Norway made the appeal Tuesday night after another emergency council session to deal with a complaint by Cyprus that Turkey violated the ceasefire by an air attack Monday on the village of Polis.

Turkey denied that its planes fired during Monday's flight. It accused Cyprus of trying to scuttle efforts to restore peace on the Mediterranean island.

When the 11-nation council wound up the debate Tuesday night, Nielsen suspended the meeting instead of adjourning, so that it could resume on short notice if trouble broke out again.

The new council appeal was proposed by Arsene Assouan Usher of the Ivory Coast.

It asked "all governments to stop all flights over Cyprus that violate its sovereignty" and requested that the U.N. force in Cyprus "reinforce its units in the zone of the recent military operations so as to insure the safety of the inhabitants."

Sedalian Is Robbed After Becoming Ill

A passing motorist apparently took advantage of a Sedalian who had suffered a heart attack in his auto and robbed him of $1,175 Tuesday morning.

Frank Arnold, Route 2, manager of the three Jerry Brown Service Stations in the Sedalia area, was making regular rounds to pick up receipts at the stations and was enroute back to Sedalia from the east Highway 50 station when he apparently suffered the heart seizure.

Arnold's auto ran into a ditch about 75 feet east of the city's eastern city limits. A passing motorist stopped and Arnold asked the passerby to report his predicament to Brown.

No such report was made to Brown, however, and Mr. Brown himself found Arnold in his car about 10:30 a.m. as he wes enroute to Sedalia. Arnold was believed to have run off the road about 8:30 a.m. and he was not given aid until two hours later. Brown had Arnold taken to Bothwell Hospital where he was reported in fair condition Tuesday afternoon.

A hospital spokesman said Arnold's ailment had not been established definitely, but it was believed that he had suffered a heart attack.

Brown reported the loss of funds to Sheriff Emmett Fairfax about 1:30 p.m. and the sheriff's department is investigating. Fairfax said the receipts including $1,097 in currency with the remainder in change and checks. The money was believed to have been in a bank sack.

CANTON, Miss. (AP) — Civil rights workers report the 14th burning of a Negro church in the state since the Mississippi "summer project" began in June.

In Two Cities

Negro and White Youths In New Jersey On a Spree

ELIZABETH, N.J. (AP) — Negroes in Paterson and both Negro and white youths in Elizabeth went on violent sprees Tuesday night in which gasoline bombs, rocks and empty bottles were hurled, store windows smashed and one store was looted.

The outbreaks began first in Paterson and, as order was restored there, flared up in Elizabeth. Both are major industrial cities in northeastern New Jersey.

Elizabeth police said three cars carrying white youths careened through the streets of a predominantly Negro neighborhood, tossing bottles. Negroes smashed a tavern window, police said, and a Negro man was charged with looting.

Paterson Mayor Frank X. Graves said today, "We have every reason to believe there will be further trouble. We are prepared for further trouble tonight."

In Elizabeth, acting Police Director Michael D. Roy said he did not believe the disturbances were racially motivated, but were the work of "a group of young guys out for a lark."

Police appeared to be in control in both cities.

Twelve separate incidents were reported in Paterson. At least three store windows were smashed.

Mayor Graves said a dozen Negro youths boarded a bus and smashed its windows.

Two fires were started in Elizabeth firms with gasoline bombs and a third was started under the front porch of a white residents' home facing an integrated public housing project. One store was looted.

No serious injuries were reported in either city.

Four persons were arrested in Elizabeth. A Negro man was accused of looting a clothing store and three white youths were arrested after they allegedly threw a bottle from a car. A Negro man was arrested in Paterson on a disorderly persons charge.

Paterson is about 15 miles west of New York City and Elizabeth is 20 miles south of Paterson.

Study Plans To Release JFK Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Warren Commission, meeting in secret to consider how it will release the text of its Kennedy assassination report, considered a plan whereby contracts would be signed between the government and some information media.

These media would be supplied the text of the report somewhat in advance of other media on condition they "observe security" — not publish the report before the specified release date and then publish it in full.

The commission's chief counsel, J. Lee Rankin, briefed newsmen after the secret session Tuesday. The commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, is nearing the end of its long investigation into the assassination last Nov. 22 of President John F. Kennedy.

There have been reports that certain paperback book companies have had negotiations with the commission. So, a reporter asked: "How can a government commission, engaged on such a project of grave national import, engage in contractual negotiations with private concerns?"

Heavy Jewelry, Cash Loss In Plush Area

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Burglars took more than $45,000 in jewelry and $1,500 in cash from three fashionable homes in suburban Frontenac Tuesday.

The homes of Arthur Coates, board chairman of Coates Steel Products Co. at Greenville, Ill.; Paul Winter, vice president of Renard Linoleum and Rug Co.; and Edward Taylor, president-treasurer of the Seven-Up Bottling Co., were burglarized.

Disavows Extremism

Barry Would Seek Advice Of Experienced Leaders

Hershey, Pa. (AP) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater disavowed extremists of the left and right today, and promised, if he wins the presidency, to consult in advance with former President Eisenhower on appointments to key Cabinet posts.

"I seek the support of no extremists — of the left or the right," Goldwater told a closed-door summit conference of Republican leaders he had summoned here in a bid for party unity.

Goldwater said he was confident there would be no "so-called extremist takeover of the party."

His statement was distributed in advance.

In it, he said that if elected president, he will consult Eisenhower, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon "and other experienced leaders seasoned in world affairs" before naming secretaries of defense or state, or any other key national security posts.

Goldwater said his foreign policy would be patterned upon Eisenhower's, and continued:

"If all this amounts to an impulsive and trigger-happy approach to foreign policy, then I fear the English language has lost its meaning."

Goldwater said the number one campaign problem the Republicans face is "the totally wrong view our opponents will try to din into the mind of every American voter — namely that the election of a Republican president in November will somehow lead to war."

"This is the supreme political lie, and we've got to label it for what it is," Goldwater said.

The Arizona senator said a Goldwater administration "will mean an immediate return to the proven policy of peace through strength which was the hallmark of the Eisenhower years."

He added:

"Every president, if he's worth his salt, will pick his own Cabinet. He must pick his own associates for the top echelon of government. However, I can assure you that I would not appoint anyone to the offices of secretary of state, or secretary of defense or other critical national security posts until I have first discussed my plans for those appointments with Gen. Eisenhower, Dick Nixon and other experienced leaders seasoned in world affairs."

Goldwater offered a string of pledges to the 38 Republicans, Eisenhower and Nixon among them, he summoned here to talk about party unity.

The senator had a preview unity talk Tuesday with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

He said they met for about 90 minutes to discuss the party, campaign issues and "the normal things good Republicans talk about."

Goldwater said he had not discussed the role Rockefeller might play in his campaign.

The governor has said he will support the ticket, but campaign only in New York.

Goldwater told the summit conference he and vice-presidential nominee William E. Miller would stand behind the GOP platform's "solemn pledge for full implementation" of the new civil rights law.

Largest Helicopter Assault Thrown Against Viet Cong

Take 1,000 Vietnamese Troops Into the Attack

XA BA HAO, Viet Nam (AP) — One of the largest helicopter assaults of the South Viet Nam war was hurled today against a reported concentration of some 3,000 Communist Viet Cong in a jungle area.

Ninety-six Vietnamese and U.S. Army helicopters carried nearly 1,000 Vietnamese troops into the attack.

Minutes after the assault began, a young U. S. Army first lieutenant slumped dead at his controls.

A 50-caliber armor-piercing machinegun bullet had passed through the windshield as the helicopter was making a strafing pass and pierced his heart.

"He was the seventh pilot in our class of 50 to be killed in Viet Nam," Capt. Robert Estes of Anson, Maine, said.

Another armed helicopter, flown by Maj. Ralph Irvin of Redding, Calif., also was shot up badly but limped back to Saigon. Redding and his crew escaped injury.

Every available helicopter in the southern half of South Viet Nam was rounded up for the operation.

But the morning started poorly. The helicopters and the Vietnamese Air Force fighters that were to have blasted rockets into the assault zone had to turn away when heavy ground fog rolled in.

It was nearly 9:30 a.m. before the operation got under way again.

"It's nice for the Viet Cong this way," a crewman said. "Our spotter planes have given them fair warning. They've seen the sky black with choppers, and now they have a couple of hours to pack up at leisure."

In the jungle, scores of smoke bursts erupted, and tracers arched up at the helicopters. Machineguns in the fast-moving helicopters chattered, and rockets roared from their pods.

Cautious In Denouncing US Reprisal

Red Chinese Rap Soviets for Delay In Taking Action

SAIGON (AP) — Communist China accused the Soviet Union Tuesday of being too cautious in denouncing the United States for its recent reprisal attack on North Vietnamese patrol boat bases.

Shortly after Peking radio broadcast the rap at the Kremlin, U.S. Ambassador Maxwell Taylor told a news conference in Saigon the United States has adequate military resources to repel any Communist attack on South Viet Nam.

The official New China News Agency complained that statements by Soviet officials "did not refer to extending support to the just struggle of the North Viet Nam against U.S. aggression."

Red China also said the Soviet Union's two leading newspapers, Pravda and Izvestia, were publishing American statements on Viet Nam without comment, even though the Communist regime in North Viet Nam had said the statements were "fabricated lies."

China said the North Vietnamese government sent an urgent message to the International Control Commission in Viet Nam accusing the United States of "continuing to provoke and sabotage North Viet Nam."

The control commission, consisting of representatives from India, Canada and Poland, has arrived in Hanoi, the capital of North Viet Nam, for on-the-spot investigations.

Taylor said the recent crisis in Viet Nam's Gulf of Tonkin was a reminder of "a need for readiness to respond to aggression at any level."

Kennedy In N. Y. Race, Paper Says

NEW YORK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has decided to enter the New York race for U.S. senator, the New York Times said today.

Similar reports have been printed or broadcast by other news media, including the New York Journal-American, the Columbia Broadcasting System and the American Broadcasting Co.

The Times said it learned Tuesday night that Kennedy had told relatives and a few close friends of his decision.

Kennedy expects to make a formal declaration of his candidacy next week and in all probability announce at the same time his resignation as attorney general, the story added.

The Times said an authoritative source disclosed that the Kennedy camp anticipates an endorsement from New York City Mayor Robert F. Wagner within the next few days.

The story said Kennedy's intentions became known after a day in which the campaign to get him the Democratic nomination "gathered momentum in all sections of the state."

Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of Rochester is expected to run for re-election. He has the support of his party's state organization, but he says he hasn't made up his mind.

Kennedy said here Monday that he would not consider running for senator without "express approval" by Wagner, the state's most influential Democrat.

That has been the last public word from Kennedy on the subject.

Californians Approve $425,000 Bond Issue

The city of California passed a $425,000 bond issue, 130 to 51 Monday in a special election. Both funds, approved by a small voter percentage, will be used to finance new equipment and improvements at the Ralston - Purina turkey processing plant in California. The bond was the same type passed in December of 1963.

Johnson To Enforce Civil Rights Laws

President Addresses Bar Association On Many Major Issues

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson told the American Bar Association today he will enforce the civil rights law and citizens must observe it — regardless of demonstrations in the streets and violence in the night.

In a city where racial disorder erupted recently in Harlem and Brooklyn, Johnson pledged that:

"We will not permit any part of America to become a jungle, where the weak are the prey of the strong and the many."

While speaking of maintaining law and order among American citizens, Johnson also stressed in his prepared address that "we work for peaceful process among nations," and for the defense of freedom "because it was right that we should."

But he beckoned to America's allies to lend a strengthened hand and he upheld the administration's over-all policy in Viet Nam — a policy that has drawn the fire of Sen. Barry Goldwater, Republican presidential nominee.

Johnson took advantage of the forum the lawyers offered to restate principles and policies guiding the administration with respect to both Viet Nam and Cyprus.

It is our duty to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to which Greece and Turkey belong, the President said, to help prevent its disruption by a war in Cyprus.

He said it also is our duty to help avoid large-scale loss of life among Cypriots and to uphold the principle of peaceful settlement of disputes.

Statement On Defense Said False

LBJ, Pentagon Fire Back At Barry's Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and the Pentagon have fired back at Sen. Barry Goldwater's charge that the Administration is depleting the "arsenal for the defense of freedom."

The Defense Department described as "totally false" Goldwater's statement that the U.S. capacity to deliver nuclear weapons may be reduced by 90 per cent in the next decade.

And President Johnson, addressing the same audience that heard Goldwater's charge — the members of the National Association of Counties — said:

"Our resources are committed, our sacrifices are made, our vigil is maintained so that there shall be no win for aggression in our times."

In his speech Monday, Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee, said the United States faces the prospect of going into the 1970s without a single new manned bomber.

"Under our present defense leadership, with its utter disregard for new weapons, our deliverable nuclear capacity may be cut down by 90 per cent in the next decade," Goldwater asserted, unless present plans are changed.

Not so, the Pentagon said Tuesday night through Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester.

Sylvester's statement said Goldwater's charge was "not only without foundation but contrary to the facts."

Battle Over Legislative Adjustment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate battle lines formed today over efforts to tie a legislative reapportionment rider to the coattails of the foreign aid bill.

Administration leaders saw little prospect of heading off a long floor fight on the rider sponsored by Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen.

Unless a compromise can be reached, final action on the bill may not come until late next week, killing any prospect for the adjournment of Congress in advance of the Democratic National Convention which opens in Atlantic City a week from Monday.

The foreign aid bill suffered two setbacks Tuesday.

First, the Senate trimmed $216.7 million from the $3,516,700,000 asked by President Johnson and approved by the House. The action came on a 50-35 vote adopting an amendment by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore. This reduction, added to a $50 million cut recommended by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, slashed the bill $266.7 millin below the original "bare bones" request. Supporting the slash were 31 Democrats and 19 Republicans, while 26 Democrats and 9 Republicans opposed it.

July Record Sales Month In General

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The summer finds retailers fighting a see-saw battle to set record sales. Bankers, on the other hand, keep reporting that deposits are rising to successive highs.

But in July people bought more autos than in June. This pushed the vital sector of retail sales, durable goods, up by 2 per cent. This, says the Commerce Department in a preliminary guess, makes July the record month for sales in general.

The department had said the same thing about June in its preleminary survey. But that record didn't hold for long. Later figures dropped June behind May, leaving the earlier month still the champ.

At the same time consumers were buying more cars and other goods, both hard and soft, they weren't neglecting their bank accounts.

The National Association of Mutual Savings Banks reports the nation's 507 mutual savings banks had a total of $46.5 billion deposits in July, compared with $42.7 billion a year earlier.

This made July the record month. But the banks also had another record. The rise in deposits last month was $275 million, to top the previous high of a $158 million increase in July 1962. This summer's advance was more than twice that of July 1963, when deposit totals rose by $122 million.

The association says that rising deposits have been almost continuous during the five months since the federal income tax cut took effect. The bankers say people apparently are saving up to half of the tax cut.

Steadily rising totals of personal income, from wages and salaries, interest, rent collections, as well as tax breaks, have been enough to keep both the banks and the stores reasonably happy.

The Commerce Department's latest estimates put retail sales in May at $21.8 billion, and in June at $21.7 billion. It's first guess for July is $21.9 billion. If that holds, the midsummer month will be the champ.

Economists watch the durable goods sector closely because that is the most volatile. The nondurables, such as food and clothing and gasoline, leave the consumer with less discretion. He spends nearly the same on these when personal incomes are leveling off as he does when they are rising.

But when the consumer buys the big-ticket items, the cars and appliances, it may be because he feels confident of being able to swing the payments, or feels flush and expansive. It's a clue to how long the present business expansion may last.

Youth Killed When Hit By Automobile

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Robert Turner, Jr., 15, was killed Tuesday when he was struck by an automobile as he crossed a city street.

Police said the car hit Turner, carried the teen-age boy about 100 feet, smashed into four parked cars and hit a light standard.

Use Signs Anyway

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Five bail bondsmen picketed the chief of police Tuesday with signs demanding his resignation.

But Chief C. I. Robb announced his retirement the day before, so why the demonstration?

"Well," explained one, who with the others is mad because they aren't allowed offices alongside six other bondsmen in the jail, "we had the signs painted before the retirement and we thought we might just as well use them."

His Funeral Was Staged Prematurely

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ramundo Reyes' funeral was a reverent event, carefully arranged by members of his family.

They chipped in $150 to pay the mortuary and cemetery. His nephew contributed $22 for the burial suit. Reyes' Social Security was cut off, his other worldly affairs were terminated.

Final rites were conducted last Friday.

Tuesday, Reyes, 74, was home again.

The nephew, Adam Rios, saw him first. Reyes was crossing the street, toward his house.

"I put my hand to my forehead," Rios related, "and I said, 'Oh, my God!' "

Reyes' sister, Paula, 75, was more calm.

"Where have you been?" she asked Ramundo, with whom she resided.

He murmured something about Mexico, but he didn't remember much that had happened since he disappeared three weeks ago.

Miss Reyes said her brother accompanied her to General Hospital three weeks ago when she went for treatment. He waited outside.

When she returned to the waiting room, he was gone. So was $16 in her purse and $290 in her shopping bag.

Police were notified.

Last Wednesday, police called to say the coroner's office had the body of a man, matching Reyes' description, who had died the day before at a downtown relief mission.

"We went right down," said Rios. "We even took along some of the neighbors and friends, and they all agreed that it was my uncle."

Fifty friends and relatives filed past the open casket after the rosary last Thursday night. None questioned the identity of the deceased.

"I would have sworn it was him," said a neighbor.

Uncle Ramundo couldn't explain what had happened.

Reyes said he couldn't believe he'd been away for three weeks. It seemed like only a few days.

"When things like this happen," he said, "the government ought to investigate."

Tuesday Rios took his uncle to Social Security and state aid authorities to prove Reyes was alive, so his payments would start again.

"There he sits now," said Rios, "but who is the man we buried?"

"We call him John Doe," said a deputy coroner.

What does Uncle Ramundo think about his funeral?

"I don't want to think about it," he said.

Traywick's Appointment Is Criticized

OMAHA (AP) — "I only ask that I be given a chance to prove myself," says Dr. Leland E. Traywick, president-elect of the University of Omaha.

Traywick's appointment to the post has been criticized by Rep. Glenn Cunningham, R-Neb. Part of the controversy involves whether a Communist might be permitted to speak on campus. Also involved is Traywick's forced resignation from Southwest Missouri State College.

Dr. Traywick told a news conference Tuesday that he had been asked a theoretical question as to what he would do if a Communist were brought to the campus to speak.

"I replied that students should be allowed to hear a Communist provided there was ample opportunity for cross examination and debate from the floor by anyone present."

He said he emphasized "our free enterprise system has no fear of Communists in open debate. We will win the debate every time."

As for his resignation, Dr. Traywick said "there were honest differences of opinion between the board at Springfield, Mo., and me. It became apparent early this spring that we could no longer work together in spite of a pledge of absolute confidence in me late last fall."

Chairman Varro Rhodes of The Omaha board of regents reiterated Dr. Traywick has "100 per cent support of the regents."

File License Charge Against Prosecutor

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A charge of operating a motor vehicle without proper state license plates was filed Tuesday against St. Louis Prosecuting Attorney Thomas Carmody.

Special Prosecutor Robert Dowd filed the charges. Dowd said the maximum penalty, on conviction was two years in jail and a $500 fine or both.

Judge David Fitzgibbon of the Court of Criminal Correction said Carmody would not be arrested or asked to post bond. He said a court summons would be issued telling Carmody when a hearing would be held, probably within two weeks.

Carmody was appointed to the post by Gov. John Dalton last October when Prosecuting Attorney William J. Geekie died.

Gov. Dalton has asked Carmody to resign his position if the charges are true. Carmody's term runs through 1966.

Two Brothers Drown Wading in Gasconade

HERMANN, Mo. (AP) — Two brothers drowned while wading in The Gasconade River as friends swam nearby Tuesday evening.

One of them, Herman Roesner, went to the aid of the victims, Francis Kluba, 13, and John Kluba, 27, neither of whom could swim. They almost dragged Roesner under and he had to let go of them.

The body of the older brother was found Tuesday night. Dragging operations for the other boy were suspended until today because of darkness.

The drownings occurred five miles up the Gasconade from its confluence with the Missouri River. The Klubas and Roesner are from Washington, Mo.

Tight Security Surrounds Sukarno When In His Auto

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Troops with unsheathed bayonets took up positions along a busy Jakarta street. Sirens sounded and eight motorcycle police, four armored cars and nine jeeps filled with guards swept past.

In the center of the convoy was the long, black limousine carrying the president of Indonesia.

An American woman tourist looked on slightly wide-eyed, then put down her orange soda and said:

"Tell me, just how popular is this President Sukarno?"

The question is a difficult one.

At 63 Sukarno, lifetime president of this island country, has survived five assassination attempts since 1957. The bristling escort is routine when he moves through this city of three million.

After an attempt on his life in May 1962, Sukarno formed the Tjakarabirawa regiment, an elite guard of more than 2,000 men whose sole task is to protect him. This red-bereted guard is tough.

Like all leaders, Sukarno is the possible target of an assassin, but there is no evidence to suggest the heavy security indicates unrest that could lead to revolts or that it is even a sign of widespread unpopularity.

While there are those who oppose Sukarno and the so-called guided democracy that gives him almost unrestricted powers, there is no significant open opposition. Any criticism of Sukarno is voiced guardedly and then only to persons in whom the critics have complete trust. Some who have been more forthright are no longer in this country, or are in jail.

No newspaper attacks the president personally. The government-run radio hails his policies in words and music.

Listening to nearby Radio Malaysia is forbidden. Books critical of Sukarno have been burned or barred. Some American publications are banned.

Indonesia's 10 legal political parties, ranging from Communist to nationalist to religious, may bicker among themselves but they never assail the president or his actions.

The Parliament is appointed. The last elections were held in 1955.

By utilizing fully his shrewd sense of balance and timing, Sukarno has been able to play off the country's major strengths against each other and has come out on top.

He is the only president Indonesia has had since independence was declared in 1945.

Outwardly and officially, then, the answer to the lady's question is that Sukarno is popular. For all those voices abroad who denounce him as a demagogue or dictator, an expansionist and aggressor, there are Indonesians here who speak of him in terms of near worship.

Sorghum Grain Crop Forecast Is Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has forecast a sorhum grain crop this year of 473 million bushels, the lowest indicated production in eight years.

This size crop would be 19 per cent lower than last year's and 14 per cent below the 1958-62 average.

Tuseday's forecast included 86,580,000 bushels in Kansas and 9,756,000 in Missouri.

Other crops forecast by the Department of Agriculture, by states, included:

Corn — Missouri 186,561,000 bushels, 57 per acre; Kansas 46,170,000 bushels, 38 per acre.

Winter wheat—Missouri 47,222,000 bushels, 32.5 per acre; Kansas 93,334,000, 23 per acre.

Soybeans for beans—Missouri 64,653,000, 23 per acre; Kansas 10,751,000, 13 per acre.

First college to admit Negroes equally with whites was Oberlin College in 1835.

Astronauts Face Hot Nevada Desert

RENO, Nev. (AP) — America's third crop of space travelers, sticking close to the ground this week, headed into the western Nevada desert today to sweat it out among the wildlife and sagebrush.

They'll be 30 miles from civilization, with only two quarts of water and a survival kit until Friday. If the astronauts wish to eat, they'll have to forage food from plants and animals.

National Park Measure Passed By the House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed and sent to the Senate Tuesday a bill to create a new national park in Missouri to be known as the Ozark National Scenic Riverways.

The bill would authorize $7 million for acquisition of a ribbon of land running down each side of the Current River for 100 miles and the Jacks Fork River for 40 miles.

Rep. Richard Ichord, D-Mo., sponsor of the bill, said he expected passage by the Senate will be "a mere formality."

An opponent of the bill, Rep. John Kyl, R-Iowa, warned the rivers would become "a 140-mile main street of a Coney Island Development." He said he based his fear on the lack of any zoning law in Missouri.

"The banks on both sides will be filled with commercial enterprizes and residences," he said. "We will be destroying the very thing we're trying to preserve."

Supporters of the bill praised the two spring-fed, clear-running streams and the land through which they flow as among the most scenic areas in the United States.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I am 28 years old and have a good job in a department store. Since I was a kid I've had a bad limp which has made me self-conscious. I wasn't able to work up the nerve to ask a girl for a date until I was 20 years old.

Last year I began to take out a girl who works in the store. Bernice gave me a lot of confidence in myself. Until I met her I never thought I was interesting enough to hold a girl's attention.

Bernice is 24, has been married and divorced. She is full of pep, good company and says she is crazy about me. I gave her a diamond engagement ring for Valentine's Day and we plan to be married in October.

Lately I've been hearing a lot of talk about Bernice and the floor walker, Bernice and the shoe buyer, Bernice and the window trimmer, to name just a few. She has told me several lies and now I see other things that didn't add up.

I'm afraid to have a showdown for fear she will break off with me. I couldn't take that. I'm hoping she will settle down after marriage. Any advice?—HOPING.

Dear Hoping: Bernice isn't playing it straight and you know it. Better to face reality now than to marry the girl and wonder where she is—and with whom.

In the department store business there's an old adage—"The first mark-down is the cheapest." This adage applies to people as well a. merchandise.

Dear Ann Landers: My 17-year-old brother teases me because I'm a steady reader of your column.

He says only odd balls read Ann Landers — that something has to be wrong with a person who wants to read about other people's problems. According to him it's like peeking through a keyhole. He also says there is something sadistic about people who enjoy reading about trouble all the time. He pointed out that last week you wrote about a deaf and dumb beggar, a mean mother-in-law, a retarded child and a little kid who had to wear second-hand clothes.

What shall I say to my brother when he teases me about reading your column? I would surely appreciate it if you could supply me with a good answer.—LANDERS FAN AND PROUD OF IT

Dear Proud Fan: The next time your brother needles you about reading my column ask him how comes he knows everything that's in it?

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 44-year-old divorcee, and much too old for this sort of problem. I accepted a job as a receptionist, secretary and bookkeeper for a friend who has had severe financial reverses. I'm working at a fraction of my former salary because I want to help him get on his feet. The man has a lovely wife and family and he truly deserves a break.

Our most important customer is an octopus. He comes in several times a week, follows me around the office like a puppy-dog, and makes passes left and right. The louse is getting bolderer by the day and I am sick of it.

If he weren't so important to the business I'd give him a crack in the mouth and call it a day, but we need his account.

How can I get him to leave me alone and still keep him friendly—at the business level? — TIRED OF RUNNING AROUND THE DESK.

Dear Tired of Running: If the entire future of the business hinges on the account of this eight-handed idiot you might as well lock the door NOW.

The man didn't give the firm his account because of you—and he probably will not take his account away if you chill him. So go ahead—and let the teeth fall where they may.

Rogers Named To Retarded Children Post

John A. Rogers of Jefferson City has been named to the staff of the Missouri Association for Retarded Children as Director of Community Services, it was announced today by Ramon V. Conklin of Kansas City, Association President.

Rogers, who holds the degree of Master of Science in Social Work from Washington University, St. Louis, will work in the Association's Central Region of 16 counties, carrying out a special demonstration project for which partial support has been awarded by the United States Public Health Service.

The project involves community organization to provide mental retardation services in nonmetropolitan and rural areas. Territory covered by the demonstration includes counties of Benton, Boone, Callaway, Camden, Cole, Cooper, Gasconade, Hickory, Howard, Maries, Miller, Moniteau, Morgan, Osage, Pettis and Saline.

A special consultative committee is being formed by the Association to advise its personnel in connection with the project. Conklin called the project "a special attempt to see that the mentally retarded have adequate special service, in cities, towns, villages." These services, he said, have developed more rapidly in metropolitan areas.

John A. Rogers

The Missouri Association for Retarded Children, which opened its Central Office in Jefferson City one year ago, is the only voluntary State-wide agency serving exclusively in the broad field of mental retardation. "We are concerned with all the mentally retarded, of any age, any degree of handicap, and equally concerned about the retarded in metropolitan areas and those on the isolated rural hilltop," Conklin added.

The Association works closely with State agencies providing services for the retarded, providing referral and information services designed to create an informed public awareness of the positive potentials of the mentally retarded, and through its local Associations establishes pilot or demonstration projects offering direct services to the retarded which are not otherwise available.

Refreshments were served to Mr. Woltmann, seven members and three children.

The next meeting will be in September in Boonville at the home of Mrs. Fred Bosau.

Bunceton GA's Hear Of 'Ship of Freedom'

Sandra Hazlett gave the program, "Ship of Freedom," at the Aug. 4 meeting of Bunceton Irene Branum Girls Auxiliary meeting at Bunceton Baptist Church. Closing prayer was led by Mrs. Louis Hurt.

At the business meeting, Lois Moore, president, presided. Charlotte Scott gave secretary's report. Treasurer's report was given by Jo Ann Gibson. Diane Hamilton led singing of "America" and "We've a Story to Tell to the Nations." Scripture was read by Doris Streeter.

Mrs. Jim Moore served refreshments to nine members and two leaders at her home after the meeting.

NEW RIFLE FOR THE GROUND FORCES?—Although the Army's M-14 rifle (top) has been used by the troops for only four years, the Army is searching for a newer, lighter, more powerful weapon. High on its list of possible replacements is the AR-15 (bottom) manufactured by Colt's Patent Firearms Manufacturing Co. The AR-15, now in very limited use in Viet Nam, fires a high-velocity .223 caliber slug, not much larger than a .22 caliber bullet. The M-14 uses the larger .30 caliber slug. Tests indicate that the AR-15 is remarkably accurate and lethal. Also under test are the AR-18, Stoner 63 and the Special Purpose Individual Weapon (which shoots darts and rifle grenades).

Kinloch Dissolves Its Police Board

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Kinloch's Board of Aldermen dissolved the all - Negro community's Board of Police Commissioners Tuesday night.

Curtis Questions Jobless Rate Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Thomas Curtis, R-Mo., has questioned the Labor Department report that the jobless rate last month had dropped below 5 per cent of the labor force for the first time in more than four years.

Curtis said in a House speech Tuesday that the announcement that unemployment declined from 5.3 per cent in June to 4.9 per cent in July raised "a question of the integrity of the secretary of labor and others in the Labor department who hold political appointments."

He said the announcement included a report that the total labor force declined by 400,000 during the same period. He questioned whether it actually occurred.

Curtis said the Labor Department called such a decline normal for that season. But he cited last year's figures showing the work force increased between June and July.

Moose Prepare For Supreme Governor Visit

During the past ten days busy work sessions have been held at the Sedalia Moose Lodge building at Third and Lamine. Painters are busy sprucing up the ballroom, other men are checking the furniture for loose screws and torn spots while some of the ladies are cleaning the pictures of dust collectors around the club room. All this bustling activity is in preparation for the visit of Thomas Griffin, Supreme Governor of the Loyal Order of Moose.

This is a special occasion for Sedalia Moose Lodge 1494. With so many Moose lodges around the nation a Supreme Governor can visit only a very few of them during his term of office, so Sedalia is being especially honored. Sedalia lodge is the only one he will visit in Missouri other than the Missouri State Convention at St. Charles. This is the first official visit of a Supreme Governor in the 15 year history of the lodge.

Planned for the evening is an enrollment class in honor of the governor at 7:30 p.m. followed by a dance. Governor Griffin's talk will be open to both the men and women of the Moose and their guests. Members with prospective candidates are urged to get them cleared with the secretary so they may participate in this special event.

At the Missouri Moose state convention convening in St. Charles on Aug. 14. Lloyd Deuschle, named Supreme Deputy Governor at the National Convention in Chicago in June, for the State of Missouri, will be formally invested with the honors of this high office.

Fires In City

A fire at the Cecil Robinson residence, 419 East Pettis, caused an estimated $75 damage shortly after 10 a.m. Wednesday.

Fire Chief Emmett Vaught said the fire was probably caused by careless handling of a cigarette.

The blaze appeared to have originated in front of a door in a west living room, spread up the door to the walls and ceiling. Firemen used one booster line from the fire truck and were able to confine the damage to the one room.

Burning trash and old boards at Ninth and Lamine caused a run by Sedalia firemen about 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. No damage resulted.

Workmen tearing down the old residence on the property had been burning old lathes and boards. Neighbors complained of smoke during the evening and feared sparks might set fire to property in the neighborhood should wind come up during the night. A line of hose was laid by the firemen to wet down the burning embers and area.

Police Court

A second Negro youth drew a $100 fine and 90 days in the city jail Thursday morning for a role in prying open parking meters on Lot No. 4 at Ohio and Pacific.

Judge Lawrence Englund assessed the penalty in Police Court after Howard Williams, Jr., 18, 212 North Washington, pleaded guilty to charges of petit larceny and destruction of city property.

Williams, however, will not have to serve his jail sentence. Judge Englund later in the morning accepted payment of $117 from him in compensation for damage to the parking meters. Police said the youth was paroled on the 90-day sentence to his grandparents providing he remains on good behavior.

The $117 amount paid to the city was the estimate of Meter Sgt. Alva Lemens as to the damage to meters on the Ohio and Pacific lot.

Henry Fulcher, Jr., 17, Route 4, is currently serving an identical penalty after having been fined and jailed by Judge Englund on July 30.

Police had arrested Fulcher early the morning of July 29. Sgt. Perry Franklin said that the Williams youth surrendered himself Tuesday.

October-Like Temperatures Hit Missouri

KANSAS CITY (AP) — October-like temperatures hit Missouri today as a cold air mass from the Pacific Northwest moved across the state.

Temperature records were broken in many parts of the state as the mercury slipped into the 40s. Indications are that another chilly night is ahead. But the mercury will begin climbing Thursday afternoon.

The state's low this morning was 46 at St. Joseph, a reading which shattered the mark of 50 for the date set in 1931. Maryville had 47, a mark which broke the record of 49, set in 1917.

St. Louis, which was the warmest spot in the state, saw its low of 55 break the mark of 58 set in 1931.

By way of contrast, it was just 28 years ago today that Kansas City saw the start of a 16-day record heat wave, which was the hottest ever recorded by the Weather Bureau. One day the top was 113 degrees.

The lows tonight will be in the 40s in the east and south and from 47 to 53 in the northwest. The highs Thursday will be near 80 in the northwest, in the 70s in the east and south and around 80 in the southwest.

Temperatures through Monday will average 6 to 8 degrees below normal. Little or no precipitation is expected.

Meningitis Curbed At Military Post

FT. ORD, Calif. (AP) — Army officials say a meningitis outbreak that has claimed 10 lives at Ft. Ord apparently has been controlled.

Post Surgeon Rolland B. Sigafoos said Tuesday "we still have nine patients in the hospital, but, thankfully, all are now off the serious list."

The disease has stricken 61 persons so far this year at this Army training base. Nine soldiers and a child, a military dependant, have died of the dissease.

"Further, I say to you . . . that I will use the great moral influence of the presidency to promote prompt and peaceful observance of civil rights laws.

"It goes without saying that a Goldwater-Miller administration would take — within appropriate constitutional limits— whatever action is necessary to deal effectively with situations in this area that might develop in disorders, riots or any other forms of mass lawlessness."

"And," he added, "let no one mistakenly assume that a Goldwater - Miller administration would shirk any federal responsibility to prevent any American from supressing the rights of any other American."

Goldwater devoted much of his attention to foreign affairs.

"The republican party is, and has proven itself to be, the party of peace," he said.

"We don't claim that the Democrats are a war party," he said. "But America might well question the caliber of leadership which has blundered into three wars in my lifetime because it doesn't understand its responsibilities for keeping the peace."

The senator said he supports "unconditionally the purposes the United Nations was originally intended to serve. . ."

He said the United States must "make the fullest possible use of the United Nations" and seek to improve it.

But he added," the U.N. was never designed to be a substitute for a clear and resolute U.S. foreign policy. . ."

Politically, Goldwater said, "we seek to read no one out of this party. . . we want and we need the help of every Republican if we are to win in November. . ."

"We repudiate character-assassins, vigilantes, Communists, and any group such as the Ku Klux Klan that seeks to impose its views through terror or threats or violence," Goldwater said.

GOP governors and gubernatorial candidates, summoned here by the Arizona senator, talked confidently of party unity as they gathered for the conference.

But there was no word on the outcome of the secret session Tuesday that brought Rockefeller, a leader among Republican moderates, to Goldwater's Washington apartment.

That session recalled Rockefeller's 1960 rendezvous with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in New York. The Rockefeller-Nixon meeting helped shape the party's moderate 1960 platform. Goldwater called it "a Munich."

There was another advance gathering, at the mansion of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton in nearby Indiantown Gap. About two dozen top Republicans, among them vice presidential nominee William E. Miller of New York and national chairman Dean Burch, were on hand for a private dinner there Tuesday night.

It was billed as purely a social gathering, and Miller said no business was transacted.

Burch said he knew of the Rockefeller-Goldwater meeting, but didn't know what went on.

In Washington, Goldwater's press secretary, Edward K. Neller, said, "I'll tell you all I know. They met."

Rockefeller has said he supports the Goldwater-Miller ticket but plans to campaign only in New York.

Miller, a New York congressman, said he didn't know of the Rockefeller-Goldwater talks.

Gov. John Reed of Maine, who has withheld support from the national ticket, said he hopes to endorse Goldwater and Miller after the conference.

Bad Check Passers Are Apprehended

Two men were apprehended by police in Sedalia Tuesday and officers said they had passed worthless checks in the city. One of the men was a walk away escapee from the State Hospital at Fulton, Mo.

First tip-off to the subjects was Tuesday morning when the police were notified to be on the lookout for a 1960 Plymouth sedan with two subjects and guns lying in the rear seat. Identification of the car was given police with no other information, other than it bore a California license.

About 2:35 p.m. Loren Williams, parking meter inspector, spotted the car in the 100 block on South Ohio. He notified police and Motorcycle Officer Robert Vogler was able to get in behind the car and followed it to Fifth, thence west to Osage and north to Fourth Street, where Sgt. Perry Franklin joined Vogler and they stopped the automobile. The driver identified as Jonas Edward Baggett, 21, Kansas City, was alone in the car at the time, but police said he admitted letting another subject out of the car a short time before.

The second subject was identified as Don D. Sprinkles, 34, Sedalia, who had disappeared from the State Hospital at Fulton, June 10, this year. Sprinkles was apprehended about 6 p.m. by Assistant Chief Charles Knapp, Sgt. Franklin and Officer Lester Williams.

According to the police Baggett passed a bad check for $19 at the Brown Oil Co., on North Missouri and Sprinkles one for $21. Sprinkles was said to have cashed another check for $5 at the East End Tavern. Police said Baggett said he cashed the check for $19, while Sprinkles did not admit passing any checks.

The automobile, according to information from the Missouri State Highway Patrol received from California, belongs to the Bank of America at Anaheim Calif., but is registered to a Frank and Rose Bruno, Arlington, Calif.

Police said investigation determined the owners of the auto were related to Sprinkles and the car was not a stolen vehicle.

Baggett Charged Here

Police held Sprinkles until Wednesday morning when authorities from the state hospital at Fulton arrived to return him to the mental institution.

Baggett, however, was turned over to county authorities and Wednesday morning Prosecuting Attorney J. R. Fritz filed a state warrant charging him with obtaining money and property by means of a bogus check. The warrant charges Baggett with passing the $19 check at the Brown Oil Company.

Sheriff Emmett Fairfax said Baggett was being held in the county jail in lieu of $1,000 bond. He is scheduled for preliminary hearing in Magistrate Court Thursday morning before Judge Frank Armstrong.

Bicycle Bomb Blast Injures Americans

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — A Communist "bicycle bomb" exploded in downtown My Tho, south of Saigon, tonight killing 3 Vietnamese on a crowded street and wounding 27 other persons, including 5 American servicemen.

The bomb which was built into an unattended bicycle parked innocently outside an open-air restaurant at which the Americans were sitting was believed to have been aimed primarily at Americans.

U.S. authorities in Saigon believe it is part of a stepped-up Communist Viet Cong campaign against Americans in the wake of the Gulf of Tonkin incidents last week.

None of the five Americans wounded in the explosion is in a serious condition, a U.S. spokesman said.

New Series Favored For TV Success

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Should ABC's new comedy series, "No Time For Sergeants" prove to be anything like the movie of the same name, a better title for the television series would be "Jethro Clampett Joins the Army."

The business of adapting a popular film or book as a series has certain marked advantages. "Dr. Kildare" made its television debut as a pioneering doctor show with a bit of audience insurance because a lot of people knew and loved the old radio and movie "Kildare" shows.

"Sergeants" has the advantage of the popular hillbilly theme of an innocent country jake who naively outwits the sharp con men — at least that was the way it was in the movie, now visible around the channels in reruns.

Getting a television program onto the air is an expensive gamble with odds so high against a hit show that it is surprising so many people are willing to take the risk.

An even more delicate operation, however, is maintaining public interest in a series that has been around a few seasons and whose format is beginning to wear thin.

Thus at the beginning of each new television season we inevitably hear about changes in progress.

For instance, this season NBC will send "Dr. Kildare" to Rome, far from his usual hospital base, and Bill Dana's bellhop character will have a chance to leave his hotel occasionally.

"Rawhide," which has been driving that herd of cattle over the CBS plains for years, will spruce up with some big-name guest stars, while "Gunsmoke's" Marshal Dillon will have a new sidekick after all those years of relying on Chester for chuckles.

"Lassie" will lose her old adoring family and start life anew with an adoring forest ranger. "Mr. Novak" will encounter a new, pretty dean of girls at his high school, and Andy Griffith will be romantically interested in a new girl in town for the second or third time since the series started.

REFLECTING BRAZIL — Four pretty girls are better than two, even if two of them are just reflections. The costumes worn by the models are part of a fashion show sponsored by the Brazilian embassy in Tokyo.

Return Number On Turtle Up to Date

NAPA, Calif. (AP) — Old Timer, a turtle, has a new telephone number.

It's painted on his back with nail polish.

Because his old phone number was out of date, it took quite a bit of doing for the people who found him recently, two miles from his home, to return him to the Richard Walker family.

That was because he had his old number, which was for a phone in Ukiah, 75 miles from here, where the Walker family lived until five months ago.

Mrs. Walker said she painted the original number on him after he wandered off and was gone three months.

Now, at the urging of the four Walker children, she has got out the nail polish and Old Timer's phone number is up to date.

Newsmen Moved Back By A Retaliating Judge

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Judge Allen B. Hannay of U.S. District Court has issued an order prohibiting reporters from sitting at the press table in his courtroom.

The press table is located inside a swinging gate which separates the spectator seats from the attorneys' tables, the jury box and the judge' bench.

Hannay said Tuesday reporters would be allowed to sit with spectators, but they would not be permitted to go past the swinging gate.

Asked why he was imposing such an order, Hannay said an item about him recently contained incorrect reporting.

Parking Violators Get Tires Deflated

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — Rio de Janeiro solved its illegal parking problem by deflating the tires of violators.

Sister city Sao Paul has come up with a more subtle but just as effective solution:

Illegally parked cars are impounded. To recover the car, the owner must go to the proper department and pay the 20 cruzeiro — less than two cents —fine.

Simple? The Paulistas have employed every trick in the bureaucratic book to make it complicated.

The owner must go in person.

The pound is on the outskirts near the airport. No buses go by it. It is either an expensive taxi ride or a long walk.

When the owner arrives he finds a line ahead of him.

The delegates charged with accepting the fines is painstaking in checking documents and is obliged to pause frequently for coffee breaks or to talk on the telephone.

Plastic Injection Cures Corns on Feet

NEW YORK (AP) — Painful corns disappear with injections of a spongy plastic between the corn and the bone underneath, reports Dr. Irwin Acker of Greensboro, N.C.

He told the annual meeting of the American Podiatry Association Tuesday, "The plastic acts as a mattress or shock absorber that takes pressure off the afflicted area."

He said he successfully treated six corn sufferers with silicone-rubber materials used in plastic surgery. He said pain stops the first day and the corn disappears after a few days.

NL Roundup

Phillies Whack Chicago 13-5

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was a bad night for the New York Yankees all around.

Even Joe DiMaggio was knocked down a peg.

While the Chicago White Sox whipped the Yankees in a doubleheader, Milwaukee's Hank Aaron whipped past the Yankee Clipper into 14th place on the all time home run list, hammering his 19th and 20th of the season as the Braves walloped Houston 9-6 Tuesday night.

The homers lifted Aaron's career total to 362—one more than DiMaggio—and shoved the 30-year-old right-handed swinger into the National League spotlight that has been focusing almost steadily on the tight pennant struggle between Philadelphia and San Francisco.

Aaron's outstanding performances over the last half of the season have gone virtually unnoticed, but he has been hitting at a .355 clip since June 21 and climbed into the No. 6 spot in the league with a .314 average. In the 48 games over that stretch, he has driven in 45 runs.

While Aaron continued his heavy hitting for Milwaukee, Johnny Callison did the same for league-leading Philadelphia, slugging the first grand slam of the season by the Phillies and adding two doubles in a 13-5 walloping of the Chicago Cubs.

The victory kept the Phillies three games in front of the San Francisco Giants, but may have cost them the services of outfielders Cookie Rojas and Tony Gonzalez, the latest additions to an ever-growing injury list.

Rojas jammed both wrists when he ran into the center field wall chasing a fly ball and Gonzalez, his replacement, was hit on his protective helmet by a Dick Ellsworth pitch. Both players were taken to the hospital, but the injuries were not considered serious.

The Giants rode homers by Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda to a 6-3 victory over St. Louis, the Cincinnati Reds edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2 on homers by Frank Robinson and Deron Johnson and the New York Mets defeated Pittsburgh 3-2 in a game halted after 7½ innings by rain.

Frank Thomas slammed three doubles for his new Philadelphia teammates, driving in three runs for a 3-0 lead but the Cubs came back to move in front on homers by Andre Rodgers and Ernie Banks.

Callison then broke it up with his grand slam, capping a five-run rally touched off by Gus Triandos' homer. The two homers left the Cubs' Ellsworth, a 22-game winner last season, with a 12-14 record.

Harvey Kuenn collected three doubles for the Giants, triggered three rallies and scored three runs. He came home on Hal Lanier's single in the first and Cepeda followed with his 20th homer. In the third Kuenn scored on Mays' 33rd homer and in the seventh he was driven in on a sacrifice fly by Cepeda.

Robinson homered in the first for the Reds, then tripled in the fourth and Johnson followed with his homer. That was enough for Joey Jay, who struck out 13, scattered seven Dodger hits and brought his record to 8-8.

The Mets beat their nemisis, Bob Friend, who had a 12-0 lifetime record against the New Yorkers. Larry Elliot drove in two of the Mets' runs with a homer and single while Jack Fisher limited the Pirates to three hits.

Rookie End Added To KC Chiefs

LIBERTY, Mo (AP)—A rookie end, Jake Adams, was added for a tryout to the Kansas City Chiefs' pro football training camp roster Tuesday.

Adams, 22, 6 feet 5 and 230 pounds, is a VPI grad and came to the Chiefs from the St. Louis Cardinals who cut him loose last week.

"We'll take a look at him and see what he can do," said Coach Hank Stram. Tommy Brooker, the Chiefs' regular tight end, is recovering from a knee operation, and Adams could find room here.

Finley Bids For Beatles' Appearance

KANSAS CITY (AP) — While the Kansas City Athletics were bumping bottom in the American League Tuesday night, their irrepressible owner, Charles O. Finley, was soaring to new heights.

He had, he told all communications media, offered the Beatles $100,000 to come to his baseball park and bring in some customers. He said he had first offered them half that amount and hadn't even got a reply, so he was doubling his offer. He said he didn't know whether they would accept.

If the English boys with the sheep dog hairdos can fill the seats and lay them in the aisles, they will crown Finley's season-long efforts to give his fans something in the way of entertainment, if not a bona fide major league baseball club.

No one can say Charley hasn't tried. He tried to give his club some punch with winter trades that brought handsome Jim Gentile and Rocky Colavito to the A's for seasoned hurlers and second baseman Jerry Lumpe. That didn't work even though the Rock has striven valiantly to knock in as many runs as the unseasoned pitching staff gave away. Gentile, who started encouragingly, often poses at the plate (or flails futilely) while third strikes go by.

But Charles O. Finley has been hitting over .300 with his extra-curricular promotions.

He didn't do too well Tuesday night as the A's dropped a 5-2 decision to Washington and made tenth place secure against the Senators. Charley had 25,000 colored photographs of his baseball club ready for the Charley customers but only 8,062 claimed their dubious bonus by buying a seat.

But Charley got some 25,000 in the park to claim a Brangus bull, some domenecker hens and other assorted prizes on farm night, another 25,000 when he gave baseball bats to all the kids (and got away with it). He is going to give away a couple of 1925 fire trucks this month on fire fighters welfare night.

One thing is certain, Charley won't quit. Who knows, he may even be passing out insurance policies with every ticket before the season's over.

"Yea, yea, yea," "It's been a hard day's night." Bring on the Beatles.

The title game will be played Saturday night.

Adco scored all of their seven runs in the fourth inning on three hits, six walks and one error. New Car Dealers regrouped and scored their two in the sixth on one hit, two errors and a fielder's choice.

Tony Murray was Adco's winning pitcher, allowing a total of five hits, five walks and striking out six. Steve Morris took the New Car Dealers' loss although he was relieved in the fourth by Allan McCurdy.

Team totals: Adco — 7 runs, 6 hits, 2 errors. New Car Dealers — 2 runs, 5 hits, 2 errors.

Crickets Take Petite League Championship, Down Comets 9-6

The Crickets won the petite league championship in the girls' Khoury softball league Tuesday night, downing the Comets, 9 - 6.

Comet homers came in the third by Gloria Kinder with none on and by Nancy Lander with two on; in the fourth by Terry Young with one on, to boost them to a 6-5 lead over the Crickets.

Round trips for the Crickets were in the third by Linda Mills and Rita Bechtel, both with none; in the fourth by Stacey Morris and Linda Mills, each with none on. In the fifth, Stacey Morris homered with the bases loaded for the Crickets, to boost the score to 9-6.

Stacey Morris was the winning pitcher for the Crickets, with 15 strike-outs to her credit. Alanna Green took the loss for the Comets with 12 strike-outs.

Rotary Club Wins Over Lions, 7-5

The Rotary Club won over the Lions Club 7 to 5 in Little League Majors, Tuesday night. In the "A" League Adco's edged the Elks in their game 12-11.

Wanserski was the winning pitcher for Rotary while Gerlez was the losing pitcher.

Football Prospects

Hopes To Get Colts Out Of Gate At Season Start

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—Don Shula hopes to get his Baltimore Colts out of the gate in a fast start despite the retirement of Gino Marchetti, the perennial all-National Football League defensive end.

Don Thompson, a 6-foot-4½ 240-pounder in his third year of pro ball, must fill Marchetti's shoes if the Colts front four is to hold its own with the other powers. If Thompson doesn't make it, Shula will have to do some fast shuffling, perhaps moving Fred Miller to the outside.

Shula was new to the club himself last year, his first as head coach. He also had to fit eight rookies into the 1963 squad. Veterans will man most of the key positions this season.

"Johnny Unitas is throwing real sharp," said Shula. "He started slowly last year but he was fantastic in the second half. Unitas is just the best quarterback in football. And that goes for everybody.

"We'll be better off on offense from the start. A year ago we didn't know John Mackey was as good as he is. We didn't have a fullback until Jerry Hill got going. Raymond Berry and Jimmy Orr were out and Lenny Moore missed half the season.

"Tom Matte did a whale of a job at Moore's position. We can count on him. Whatever we get out of Moore will help. We also are counting on help from Tony Lorick, our No. 2 draft choice from Arizona State."

Lorick at fullback and Ted Davis of Georgia Tech at linebacker are the newcomers with the best chance to fight their way into starting positions.

Unitas has his favorite target, Berry, in action at split end and Mackey, touted as "a new Mike Ditka," at tight end with Orr at the flanker, Hill at fullback and Matte or Moore at running back. Willie Richardson backs up Orr and Gary Cuozzo is the second quarterback.

With Jim Parker, an all-league ace, at left guard the front offensive line is intact. Bob Vogel and George Preas man the tackles, Parker and Alex Sandusky are the guards and Dick Syzmanski is at center.

Defense may present more of a problem to Shula's personnel. The return of Billy Ray Smith, who sat out last year, strengthens one tackle spot, with Miller at the other. Ordell Braase will be at his old end job. Marchetti's position is the problem.

The poison that Socrates was forced to drink, hemlock, today is used to make Conium, powerful narcotic sedative.

Chiefs Will Compete For Area Title

The Sedalia Chiefs completed their 1964 regular season with a league record of 16-1 and an overall record of 20-4. The Chiefs are still not through for the season, having won the Western Division Title.

There will be a play-off between the winner of the Eastern Division and the Western Division for the championship of the Central Missouri Ban Johnson League. This play-off will consist of a best two of three games series.

Columbia won the Eastern Division title and are the host for the first game of the play-offs, which will be Wednesday evening. The Chiefs and Columbia have already played each other twice, with each team winning one game. Sedalia defeated Columbia 2-0 and lost 4-2.

The Chiefs will leave for Columbia from Broadway Realty at 5:45 p.m. Game time is scheduled for 8 p.m.

Thursday evening the Chiefs will be host for the second game of the playoff. Game time is again set for 8 p.m. on the Liberty Park diamond.

If a third game is needed, the place where it will be played will be decided then.

Peggy Conley Leading Girls Golf Tourney

LEAVENWORTH, Kan. (AP) —Peggy Conley led a field of 32 qualifiers into today's start of match play in the 16th USGA National Junior Girls golf tournament.

The Spokane, Wash., Miss carded an 80 Tuesday for a 74-80—154 medalist qualifying round, and was paired today against Karin Hayes of Kansas City. Miss Hayes had a qualifying 163.

Two strokes back of Miss Conley was Laura MacIvor of Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., with a 156. The defending champion, Janis Ferraris of San Francisco, qualified with a 157.

Jackie Evans of Topeka, Kan. qualified with 80-84—165. She is paired today with Shirley Walley of Youngstown, Ohio, whose qualifying score was 79-87—166.

Par over the 5,801-yard Leavenworth Country Club course is 72, and gusty winds Tuesday kept scores high, but not as high as expected.

Tournament authorities were prepared to extend the qualifying to 169, but as it turned out 167 proved to be the cut-off point.

Sports Figure Dies

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — George E. Gauthier, one of Ohio's most prominent sports figures for half a century, died Tuesday in a Blind River, Ont., hospital. He was 74.

For 34 years Gauthier served as athletic director and track coach, and for 26 years as head football coach at Ohio Wesleyan University. He retired in 1955, came back for three years as cross-country coach, and retired again in 1958.

Season's First Activity

Examinations For Football Players

It's that time for the Smith-Cotton High School football Tigers to prepare for the 1964 season with the first activity starting on Thursday, Aug. 13, with physical examinations.

All boys in the eighth grade through the 12th are to report at Jennie Jaynes at 5 p.m. Thursday, at which time they will go through their physical examinations. It is most important that any boy planning on going out for football be present at this session.

The schedule from then on resumes at 6 a.m. Saturday when boys in the ninth grade through the 12th will be issued their football equipment after which light workouts will start.

Checkout of equipment and practice for the boys in the eighth grade will be on Thursday, Aug. 20. The time is to be set later.

Coach Dick Rees reported he anticipates a report of more than 65 boys from the freshmen through seniors out for football this year. Indications are that many boys will be on hand with some others who have not been heard from reporting in.

The Tigers nucleus around which the 1964 team will be built comprises of ten lettermen back from last year. It is interesting to note of the ten returning there are four juniors and six seniors.

In the backfield, boys back are twins, Jim and John Johnson, seniors, the latter a co-captain; Jim Arnest, a junior, A. C. Byrd, a senior, and Russell Cusick, a junior. In the line will be Con Rees, co-captain Dennis Hotchkiss, and Steve Young all seniors, and Bill Herrick and Jim Lewellen, both juniors.

Many of the boys on their own this summer have been working at jobs which will benefit them in getting in shape as well as doing physical workouts to prepare for the coming season.

"We are on the upgrade with the Tiger football team," Coach Rees remarked, "and I am confident the results of the 1964 season will be somewhat better than the previous season, although there was much improvement last year."

Yankees Drop Doubleheader

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Manager Yogi Berra isn't reaching for the panic button yet. It wouldn't be the thing to do in the staid, gray flannel world of New York Yankee supremacy.

But you'll have to forgive Berra if he's wondering just a bit. He's been a Yankee for 17 years and he's seen pennant races reach into August before. That's where the similarity between his club, which lost a day-night doubleheader to the Chicago White Sox 6-4 and 8-2 Tuesday, and former Yankee teams seem to end.

The White Sox, who had lost 10 straight to New York, weren't about to extend that string. Pete Ward stroked three hits, including his 17th home run and drove in four runs as Chicago snapped the streak with the afternoon victory.

They were even more convincing in the nightcap as Ward had three more hits and Juan Pizarro fired a five-hitter winning his 15th game. Pizarro added insult to injury by capping a five-run Chicago burst in the sixth inning with his third homer of the year — a three-run shot into the right field bleachers.

The double victory pulled the White Sox to within one game of the league-leading Baltimore Orioles who edged the Boston Red Sox 8-7. Elsewhere in the American League, Washington whipped Kansas City 5-2, Minnesota downed Detroit 5-3 and Cleveland shut out Los Angeles 3-0.

The losses dropped the third place Yankees 3½ games off the pace, gave them five defeats in six games against Baltimore and Chicago in the last week and left Berra worried.

Baltimore got three two-run homers — the last one Boog Powell's 30th circuit blow of the season—to whip the Red Sox. Brooks Robinson and Sam Bowens also connected for the Orioles, who beat relief ace Dick Radatz.

Powell's shot in the seventh inning came on a 1-2 pitch with two out and broke a tie that was created when Robinson clouted his 16th an inning earlier.

Jim King and Don Lock homered to back up Claude Osteen's pitching for the Senators' victory. Osteen, who won his 11th, was replaced by Jim Hannan in the seventh. Nelson Mathews homered for the Athletics in the ninth.

Earl Battey drove in three runs and Tony Oliva slammed his 26th homer as the Twins snapped a seven-game Tiger winning streak. Detroit built an early 3-0 lead around Don Demeter's 15th homer but Hank Aguirre (2-6) couldn't hold it.

Rookie Luis Tiant won his fifth game, a four-hitter, and Max Alvis belted a three-run homer in the ninth inning for all the runs as the Indians blanked the Angels. Alvis' shot, his 13th homer of the season, was the third baseman's first hit since returning to the lineup after missing a month because of spinal meningitis.

Ten Names Added To Hall of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — Ten more names were added today to the National Football Foundation's Hall of Fame, including Earl H. Blaik, former coach at Dartmouth and Army who originated the lonely end formation.

The players honored were Charles O. Carroll, University of Washington halfback 1926-28; Ray R. Evans, Kansas University halfback 1941-42-46-47; Robert J. Herwig, University of California center 1935-37; Allison Hubert, University of Alabama fullback 1922-25; William N. Mallory, Yale University fullback 1921-23; William Kyle Rote, Southern Methodist University halfback 1948-50; W. Earl Sprackling, Brown University quarterback 1908-11; Langdon Lea, Princeton tackle, 1892-95; and Charles R. Rinehart, Lafayette guard, 1894-97.

Lea, Rinchart and Mallory are dead.

The football greats of yesteryear were selected by an honor court headed by Fred Russell, sports editor and vice-president of the Nashville Banner, and announced by Chester J. LaRoche, foundation president.

The selections bring the total of players in the Hall of Fame, to 172, and coaches to 51.

The men will be formally inducted at the foundation's annual dinner here Dec. 8 when Donold B. Lourie, Princeton quarterback of 1919-21, will receive the foundation's gold medal award.

Blaik, now an executive of Avco Corp., had a record of 45 victories, 14 defeats and 5 ties in seven years at Dartmouth. At Army his teams compiled a mark of 121-33-10 from 1941 through 1958, winning the national championships in 1944 and 1945 when he had Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis in his backfield.

Majors May Keep Present Draft System

CHICAGO (AP) — Fearing possible congressional action on the legality of a free agent draft, the majors leagues all but decided at a joint meeting Tuesday to stay with their present first-year player draft.

The free agent draft — such as the one employed by professional football in which all eligible college graduates are drafted first by the last place clubs and then up the line — appeared doomed following the meeting.

Commissioner Ford Frick said every possible draft system had been presented to the owners and their representatives by the draft committee, consisting of himself and Presidents Warren Giles of the National League and Joe Cronin of the American League.

Frick said, however, the feeling seemed to be that the clubs want to retain the first-year rule with possible amendments. The rule provides that during a player's first full year under contract he must be carried on the major league roster.

Although professional football has employed the free agent rule for years, Frick said baseball owners are still concerned over its legality and are not willing to risk congressional investigations by adopting the measure.

The clubs voted to cut fifth place teams into the World Series pool by taking 2 per cent off the top of the players' pool.

The plan was suggested by the players and would cost the players of the first four place teams approximately $15 each of their share. The plan goes into effect this year.

The league also approved a resolution asking Frick to remain on the job through the 1965 World Series. Last week Frick said he would not seek re-election after his contract expires in September 1965 and would step down whenever a new commissioner was elected.

A resolution also was adopted specifying that the contract of a major league player cannot be assigned to a lower clsasification five days prior to a major league draft.

Junior Legion Ball Play Opens Saturday

Marines As Good As They Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Once upon a time, a U.S. Marine Corps squad was supposed to consist of 16 men and a publicity sergeant.

This was, of course, sour grapes from Army types.

President Harry S. Truman once accused the Marines of possessing a "propaganda machine that is almost equal to Stalin's."

Truman couldn't have done worse if he had criticized motherhood. He subsequently apologized for his "unfortunate choice of language."

In brief, it usually is about as safe to criticize Marines as it is to lift beagles by their ears.

Now, practically for the first time in living memory, there has been an independent critique of the Marines which has been published recently although in Hebrew.

It is addressed to the question: Are the Marines really as good as they say they are?

While it is a natural question, it is one that would never occur to a Marine.

The critique was written by a lieutenant colonel named Shaked — first name unavailable — and appeared as a two-part series in the magazine "Ma'Arakhoth," official publication of the Israeli general staff.

With fine impartiality, Lt. Col. Shaked, who was one of seven Israeli officers who spent a year observing the Marines, found 14 things to the Marines' credit and 14 which he considered were on the debit side.

In general, Shaked found that the high self-esteem with which the Marines customarily regard themselves was justified.

In passing, it might be noted that there is an affinity between the Israeli armed forces and the Marines which goes back over 15 years and may come as a surprise even to Shaked.

One of the best-kept secrets of those years is the fact that a few Marine Reservists helped train some of the Israeli commandos shortly after the nation was formed in 1948.

Anyhow, Shaked really found only two things he classed as really major faults. One involved officers and the other, night operations.

By Israeli standards, Shaked said, Marine officers were "too orthodox;" they preferred "the safe and easy course of doing everything by the book as taught at Marine Corps schools."

He added that the Marine officers were "unwilling to risk daring and unorthodox solutions."

Shaked also found that Marine junior officers were too young and inexperienced in relation to their noncommissioned officers. He noted that only 25 per cent of the Marine's officers came up from the ranks whereas all officers in the Israeli army had served at least a year as an enlisted man.

The lieutenant colonel was critical of what he said was a lack of emphasis on operations at night and during bad weather. It is at these times, he said, that surprise attacks could be improvised and carried out.

These criticisms aside, Shaked characterized the Marines as a unique, outstanding outfit "without a parallel among the best armies in the world."

Shaked concluded that the Israeli armed forces could learn a great deal from the Marines.

The main tenet of Gestalt psychology is that an analysis of parts, however thorough, cannot provide an understanding of the whole. A soap bubble, for example, has a structure which imposes certain characteristics on each part of the film composing it. Changes of one part result in dramatic change of the entire structure.

Anderson Named To County FHA Committee Post

George W. Anderson, Route 1, Smithton, county farmer, has been named to the Farmers Home Administration county committee, according to Kenneth F. Fine, the agency's county supervisor here. The appointment is for three years.

Purpose of the committee is to review applications for FHA loans. Composed of three members, the panel is set up on a rotation basis with one new member appointed each year. Anderson succeeds William C. Corlew, Smithton.

The Farmers Home Administration extends credit accompanied by technical farm management assistance to farm families in Pettis County.

These families have used the loans to strengthen and improve their farm operations. Many have reorganized their farms and increased their volume of business. They have replaced worn-out equipment, bought additional land and replaced grade livestock with top-quality animals. Several improved their homes and essential farm buildings.

Kansas Town Moving

Work to Rebuild Ozawkie At Side of Big Reservoir

OZAWKIE, Kan. (AP) — The community of Ozawkie with a colorful past and not much present, is organizing for a bright future.

The northeast Kansas town will be moved about a mile and a half from its present location to make way for the Perry dam and reservoir.

The dam on the Delaware River will create a 12,000-acre lake, the third largest in Kansas with 160 miles of shoreline.

About two million persons live in a 100-mile radius of the dam, which is about halfway between Lawrence and Topeka. Included are residents of the greater Kansas City area and St. Joseph Mo.

The project, which will cost nearly $48 million, is scheduled for completion early in 1968.

Ozawkie was for a little while the county seat of Jefferson County, and after a U.S. land office opened there in 1857 the population leaped to 3,500. Pro-slavery forces made it a headquarters. The first marriage in the county was performed at Ozawkie.

But its citizens are anticipating a new life. They have formed the Ozawkie Development Co., and contracted with a Topeka firm to plat a new community of about 200 acres, overlooking the lake from a bluff on the west side of the reservoir.

Ten acres have been set side for a shopping center.

A number of Topeka residents, who said they plan year-around homes at the lake, have bought lots. They will commute to work a trip of about 30 minutes by car.

The sale of lots began June 20 and for the first month was restricted to original stockholders in the developing company and to residents of Ozawkie. The lots are now for sale to anyone wanting to live there.

Leaders in forming the company included W. A. Kramer, a dairy farmer, and Martin Vanderpool, a service station operator. Voting membership costs $20 and the money was used to hire the Topeka planning firm.

Vanderpool, who is vice president of the development company, said:

"Some of us fought this (the reservoir) for 20 years, but all the scrapping could not stop it. Now it is a matter of reality. We decided to stop fighting and start working.

"I have confidence that the development around this lake is going to be tremendous. We are going to make sure that Ozawkie is rebuilt as a good town."

Optimists Hear Irish Nurses At Noon Meet

The two Bothwell Hospital nurses from Ireland presented the program at Optimist Club Tuesday noon at Bothwell Hotel with Miss Catherine Hudson as the main speaker on their native land, and Miss Nora Carr taking over for the question and answer session that followed.

The spark of Irish wit was throughout the talk given by Miss Hudson in which she told of the shamrocks that grew only on Irish soil. She then added that she hated to say it, but the seed for the shamrocks grown on Irish farms shipped to America for St. Patrick's Day come from Germany.

In telling of the climate in Ireland which writers do not seem to praise too highly, she found the climate here nothing to praise either. While she realized that this kind of weather there is a need for lighter weight clothing she said: "But why, oh, why, do you wear those awful Bermuda shorts."

While people of this country might expect to see fairies and leprechauns in Ireland she had expected to see ranches and cowboys here, she said.

The sidewalks of Sedalia she thinks, since she and Nora have no car, could be a little smoother. There are super markets in Ireland, too, but she hopes that it will be a long time before the little grocery store, where neighbors gather and talk, vanishes from our midst.

There are many more automobiles here than in Ireland, she found, and they all drive on the wrong side of the road.

Miss Hudson had a more serious side to her talk, too, in which she gave an interesting account of the history of Ireland.

Miss Carr answered questions asked about the country and their profession stating that a three year course of nursing is required. Things here, she said, move at a much faster pace than in Ireland.

When one of the men asked the question if they found any male specimen they wanted to take back to Ireland with them Miss Hudson spoke up quickly. "Give us time, we have only been here three months."

R. L. Settles, program chairman, presented Miss Frances Ward, superintendent of nurses at Bothwell Hospital, who introduced the Irish nurses.

The meeting was presided over by Wray Schroeder, vice-president, in the absence of Clinton Black, president.

Invocation was given by Lewis Taylor.

Guests were Rev. Joe Moulder, with Don Braden and Jim Ripley, guest of Sonny Settles.

150 AP Writers to Cover National Democratic Meet

The Associated Press has assigned more than 150 news and photo staffers to carry the story of the Democratic National Convention to the nation and the world.

Their reports, bulletins and pictures will be transmitted instantly over a network of leased wires operating from Convention Hall in Atlantic City, N.J.

The convention opens Aug. 24, but staffers will be on hand well before that to cover preliminary activity.

William L. Beale Jr., Washington Bureau chief and veteran of 14 national conventions, will supervise the news report. The news editor will be Marvin L. Arrowsmith, news editor of the Washington Bureau and former White House correspondent.

F.A. Resch, AP general newsphoto editor, who has covered conventions since 1932, will direct photographic coverage.

His supervisory editors will include Patrick J. McDonald and Robert L. Tieken from New York, Barry Stroup from Washington, William F. Achatz from Philadelphia, Richard Strobel from Los Angeles, and James Laxson from Atlanta, all veterans of numerous conventions.

Newsmen and photographers from AP bureaus across the country will join in the coverage.

In addition to the general stories on the convention, the AP will provide widespread regional coverage. The object is a story for morning newspapers and another for afternoon newspapers each day for each state on activities of their delegations.

Two closely coordinated editing desks will be set up. One, headed by J. W. Davis of the Washington Bureau, will handle the general news, and another supervised by Bennett Wolfe of the Washington Bureau will have charge of state and regional news.

The general leads for morning newspapers will be written by Douglas B. Cornell, a veteran of almost 35 years of Washington news coverage and a specialist in the wrap-up story of big events.

The overnight leads for afternoon newspapers will be handled by Jack Bell, head of the AP Senate staff for 22 years, with spot tops during the day by Harry Kelly, also a Washington news veteran.

Frank Cormier, White House correspondent, will cover the activities of President Johnson. Also on hand will be reporters regularly assigned to political figures who have been mentioned as possibilities for the vice presidential nomination.

Art Edson of Washington and special correspondent Saul Pett of New York will write behind-the-scenes news and feature stories. James Marlow, news analyst, will interpret convention developments in his "The World Today" column.

Frances Lewine, who regularly covers news of the nation's First Ladies, and Joy Miller of New York, will write of the distaff personalities on the convention scene.

The AP staff will work in three shifts around the clock to provide up-to-the-minute news and photo coverage.

During the convention sessions, private telephone lines will link the AP news desks with reporters on the platform and on the floor.

Experienced operators will man teletype machines and Wirephoto transmitters that will feed a network of leased wires.

Copy will flow from Convention Hall into two AP national news wires and the AP's national Wirephoto network. A third national news wire will be in reserve for use as needed.

Also, regional wires will be available to transmit to four sections of the country news of special interest to the areas. Regional Wirephoto network legs will provide a similar service for pictures.

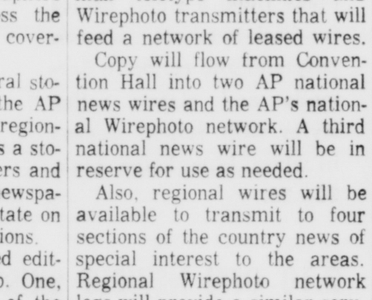

Resch will have a convention staff of more than 50 photographers, photo editors and darkroom technicians.

Davis will be assisted at the day general news desk by Harry Kelly, W. H. Mobley and Larry Osius.

The night general desk will be manned by Don Sanders, Lew Hawkins and Gardner Bridge; the early general desk by Joe Kane, Barry Schweid and Stanley Meisler.

Plight of a Foreigner In Moscow

EDITOR'S NOTE — Preston Grover, who has served The Associated Press in many parts of the world, recently completed five years as chief of the Moscow bureau. Here he tells of the unique plight of the foreigner in Moscow.

By PRESTON GROVER
Associated Press Writer

As a foreigner, you are made to feel more foreign in Moscow than almost anywhere else.

That is not altogether unpleasant, in fact often quite the reverse. You feel not only foreign, but a bit superior because of the advantages you have as a foreigner over the Russians.

It is bad in other respects. It helps isolate you from the Russians, and that is what you struggle against all the time you are there.

The Russians themselves isolate you. They have done it for centuries because of a deep-seated suspicion of foreigners. Now they isolate you for two other major reasons. They want to keep the Soviet population from contact with Western ideas and things — which represent a real challenge to Soviet authority. Westerners who visit the Soviet Union are generally better off than Russians, and this acts like a disease among people taught daily that life under communism is a better life.

And equally important, they are dreadfully spy-conscious.

In Moscow, you are forced to live as a foreigner. In the building where I lived, half the apartments were occupied by Russians, but we never met them. They enter their half of the building through the front door directly from the street. The foreign families, mostly diplomats, come in through the back door.

And standing at that back door is a policeman.

"To protect you," says the Foreign Office.

That policeman challenges every Russian who tries to enter. Only a limited number try it. Too many contacts with foreigners is a bad thing on the record of a Soviet citizen.

Yet when you do get on a friendly invitation basis with a Russian family, nothing could be more pleasant.

Then suddenly all the Russians you have invited to a cocktail party will stay away, without warning, as if you had the smallpox. It was that way at a party at my house one evening. Why? The Cuba crisis suddenly had become acute. Another time it was because of a critical article written about me in a Moscow newspaper.

As a foreigner living in Moscow you have other special privileges. You can order food from Helsinki and pay with your foreign money, which is available only to exceptional Russians.

You get a better chance at tickets at the Bolshoi. You get into Red Square for the May Day demonstration — a truly impressive affair — to which few Moscovites ever dream of getting an invitation.

Above all, you can go out for a two-week "breather," to Paris, Stockholm or London, a thing many Russians would give a left leg for.

Travel for foreigners in the Soviet Union is restricted. Without permission you can't go outside a 25-mile limit around Moscow — and much of that zone is out of bounds.

Do police listen in on your conversations? The answer is yes, but not all the time. I have seen two active listening devices in a Western embassy. The U.S. Embassy recently made quite a demonstration over finding 40 devices planted in the place. Everybody knew they were there, someplace.

For a week after you leave the Soviet Union you find yourself automatically hesitating about discussing certain things — then begin to laugh when you remember you don't have to worry.

Language is, of course, a great barrier. Russian is a hard language to learn. But it is only one of the barriers, and not the most important. Some Western diplomats and correspondents leave Moscow without ever having established any friendly contacts with Russians.

Because of this limited contact, most foreigners spend much time in what generally is called the "diplomatic ghetto," trading dinner parties with one another. It results in a lot of close friendships that last long after Moscow is a memory.

Democrats Disagree

Sees A Congressional Gain From the Goldwater Ticket

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thruston B. Morton said today he thinks Sen. Barry Goldwater's name at the head of the Republican ticket will bring substantial GOP gain in the Senate and House.

Morton, Kentucky Republican who heads his party's Senatorial Campaign Committee, said this might be particularly true in the South, the border states, the Midwest and the West.

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson of Washington, head of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, said in a separate interview he believes that Goldwater's statements about "extremism" and on other issues will bring a record number of Democrats to the polls.

"If we can get out a heavy Democratic vote, it will help all of our candidates," Magnuson said. "I think that a lot of Democrats are going to turn out to make sure that Goldwater isn't elected and doesn't carry conservatives into office with him."

The Democrats, who now have a 66-33 margin in the Senate, have 26 seats at stake in the November balloting. There are nine Republican seats up for grabs.

Despite some public claims to the contrary, neither party exercises control. The Democrats believe they will about hold their own. Republicans privately hope to gain from three to seven seats.

In the House, which Democrats control 254-177, with four vacancies, there may be a substantial turnover in personnel but few observers believe the standings of the parties will be altered materially.

Nixon Sees Rights Bill a Major Issue In Coming Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon says the "explosive conflict" over civil rights will be a major issue in the presidential campaign.

Appearing Sunday on a taped television-radio program with Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., Nixon said the people will want to hear from the candidates how they plan to handle civil rights problems.

President Johnson and Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater have agreed to avoid during the fall campaign any statements that might inflame the rights issue and encourage renewed violence.

This Week in Business

Business Reaction to Crisis Not As Severe As Cuba Week

NEW YORK (AP) — Business and finance worried during the week over the Southeast Asian crisis.

The stock market became jittery as hostilities erupted between the United States and North Viet Nam with the threat of Red Chinese involvement.

Businessmen apprehensively pondered what future events hold in store for them.

However, the reaction wasn't as severe as at the time of the Cuban missile crisis in 1962.

The first battle between North Viet Nam patrol torpedo boats and a U.S. destroyer sent the stock market on Tuesday into the steepest decline in two months.

The sell-off accelerated when the market opened Wednesday after news of the second PT boat-destroyer battle and the Dow Jones industrial average plunged 8.90 in the first hour.

The sell-off was due in part, brokers said, to sell orders from foreign stockholders.

Then a steady recovery set in that carried the averages back to where they started the day. Bargain hunters, entering the market after it had experienced a fairly long decline, were responsible for the late buying wave, according to brokers.

Defense stocks led the recovery.

With anxiety growing over what Red China might do, the market suffered a severe late sinking spell Thursday.

Commodities futures prices in New York and Chicago advanced on the theory that a war would make supplies more difficult to get and that buying now for future delivery would be profitable.

Most businessmen seemed to think that it was too early to make any judgents about the future. Despite initial apprehension, their attitude was one of wait and see.

It was a week, too, in which 1965 model cars began rolling off the assembly lines and talk of the possibility of a steel price advance increase.

Automobile production fell to its lowest level of the year with an estimated 11,400 passenger cars turned out against 620,020 the previous week and 41,862 a year ago.

Production in July fell to 586,255 from 655,200 last year because model changeover was started a week or two earlier.

Negotiations between the United Auto Workers Union and the companies on a new labor contract continued without any announcement of progress. The contracts expire Aug. 31.

The trade publication, Iron Age, said that steel industry leaders are delicately weighing the possibility of a price increase. Some executives were outspoken for the need for higher prices while others were concerned over inflationary pressures, it said.

Production during the week held steady with the previous week at 2,270,000 tons. For the first 31 weeks of the year output totaled 72,443,000 tons, 4.8 per cent ahead of the 69,100,000 produced in the like period of 1963.

The National Association of Purchasing Agents, in a report based on a survey of its members, said business was "phenomenally good" in July. For the first time since 1958 purchasing executives reported better new order and production figures in July than in June.

The Labor Department reported that unemployment dropped .04 per cent to 4.9 per cent in July. This was the first time the jobless rate has fallen below 5 per cent in nearly 4½ years.

Employment climbed to 72.4 million last month—the first time that it has exceeded 72 million.

The surge of retail sales was evidence by reports of record revenue in the first half of this year by four of the nation's major retail chains — Sears, Roebuck & Co., J. C. Penney Co., Montgomery Ward & Co. and Aldens, Inc.

On the other hand, construction in July dipped below the June rate, the Census Bureau said. Building outlays in July ran at an annual rate of $65,501,000,000, compared with $66,183,000,000 in June.

'Extreme' Vs. 'Extremism'

A considerable amount of heat is still being generated over Barry Goldwater's remark that "extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice." It is unlikely that the matter will cool off between now and November 3.

The other day, Senator Goldwater humorously gave what will probably be only one of many explanations of what he meant.

"I love my wife in an extreme way," he said. He still loved extremely, he said (to the delight of reporters), even at his age.

And in his letter to Richard Nixon, written at the latter's request to "clear the air once and for all," Goldwater phrased his thought in slightly different form: "Wholehearted devotion to liberty is unassailable and half-hearted devotion to justice is indefensible."

This, he made clear, "would not countenance illegal or improper means to achieve proper goals."

There should now be no doubt about what Barry Goldwater means by "extremism." Attempts by his opponents to use the original statement made during his nomination acceptance speech at San Francisco as proof that he is a rabid fanatic may rebound to their disadvantage.

Such statements are, of course, dangerous because they are capable of being interpreted in different ways by different people. Although the Republican candidate could not have intended to influence real extremists, he no doubt now wishes he had chosen more precise words. In fact, his letter to Nixon indicates as much.

The point on which the whole thing turns is the difference between "extreme" on the one hand and "extremism" or "extremist" on the other. The question is whether, in a particular situation, a given response is warranted by a given challenge or stimulus.

Homicide is, of course, an extreme action, but it is not extremist if it is necessary to save one's own life. It would be extremist, though, if the action which preceded it was merely a verbal insult.

It has been argued that the patriots were extremists when they threw British tea into Boston Harbor. They were not; they reacted in an effective and adequate way to an unfair British tax, which was soon repealed. But had they ambushed and murdered the tax collector, then they would have been extremists.

Senator Goldwater has said that Dwight Eisenhower was practicing extremism when he invaded Europe in World War II. While the Allied invasion was an extreme effort requiring extreme sacrifice, it certainly was not an excessive response to the danger of fascism. But had Eisenhower ordered that no German soldiers be taken alive, then he would have been an extremist.

More recently, our bombing of North Vietnamese naval bases was not extremism but an adequate and effective reaction to the action the North Vietnamese took in attacking our ships in international waters.

Generalizations and blanket charges will fly thick and fast from both sides during the coming election campaign. It will not always be easy to think one's way through them.

Is murder an adequate or is it an excessive answer to attempts to implement the civil rights law?

Is rioting in the streets by a minority group a reaction justified by their grievances, or is it extremism?

Is federal intervention in the national economy or in our personal lives so many ways extremist, or are these instances necessary and appropriate responses to the problems of an industrial society?

Is opposition to any and all agreements with the Communists justified by the threat they pose to freedom, or is it a form of extremism?

These are the questions — some of them— posed by those few words of convention oratory.

Machines Should Take Bows For Conservative Policies

NEW YORK (AP) — Many an executive has been taking bows for holding to a conservative policy that has kept the business upswing from developing dangerous excesses. But maybe it's a machine that should be taking them for him.

Some of these gadgets can cut to minutes the supply and shipping processes that used to take days. And that, say the computer's friends, is chief reason industry has amazed the experts by holding stocks to a minimum when prosperity was bursting out all over. Customers can find out faster what they need and get it faster, so cumbersome inventories are out of style.

A flour company, for example, links its 128 plants and branch offices with a computer system that each night gathers and processes all company information. In the morning it offers a full analysis of sales and inventory — both how much and where.

At the same time a grocery store chain uses its own computer network to check stocks in all outlets. This is punched out and fed directly into the flour company's system. Whatever one of the chain store's outlets needs of the producer's products can be supplied at once to the closest of the chain's 22 warehouses from the flour company's nearest source. That cuts the need for huge stocks and long shipping-lead times.

Economists first noted that inventories actually dropped in the early months of this year and then rose only modestly during the spring industrial spurt.

Now the Department of Commerce reports that in June total factory stocks actually slipped by $150 million, with the decline concentratde in finished goods. The department says business is "continuing a very cautious inventory policy."

True, but here is an example of how a machine can follow that policy and customers still be served more quickly than ever.

Once it took three to five days and much clerical work to process an order for an electric motor from a Texas district office through the Westinghouse Electric's Pittsburgh base. Now in just 4½ minutes the Texas branch can do this: order the motor by teletype through its computer center near Pittsburgh; have the motor located, the inventory record adjusted, word sent to a designated factory to restock; ascertain the list price, trade discount and the state sales tax; have an invoice typed and an order sent to the right warehouse by wire. This order comes off the teletype with bill of lading, labels already addressed for the carton, and the location of the stock bin in which the motor will be found.

Whether it is computers or top executive judgment, if inventories stay conservative in relation to sales, many of the pulse-takers of the present business expansion will be happy.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Superficial Check of Intimidation

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—In Tennessee last week about fifty college professors and students known as the "Committee for Free and Fair Elections in Fayette County," made repeated calls to the Justice Department to help them get poll watchers to prevent ballot stuffing in one of the most important vote tests of the year.

Being unable to get anyone to move at Justice, they called me. I got a similar runaround from Justice. Bobby Kennedy was out making speeches. Burke Marshall, head of the civil rights division would take no calls. Others were evasive or inaccessible. Finally I called the White House. There, Lee White, in charge of minority problems, got busy immediately. He said he would get the FBI into the case.

By this time one car driven by a Vanderbilt University teacher and carrying a Negro to the polls had been shot at, a Cornell graduate, David Jette, had been arrested for stopping to pick up a Negro voter on the highway, and various poll watchers had been thrown out of polling places though they carried letters signed by Rep. Ross Bass, a candidate for U.S. senator.

Bass, a Kefauver protege, was running in a primary election for the seat of the late senator. But the really hot race was a local election in which a liberal white farmer, L. T. Redfearn, and a Negro preacher, June Dowdy, were running for county sheriff and tax assessor against the regular Democratic machine.

Shortly after the White House got into the act, Jack Rosenthal, assistant press relations officer of the Justice Department returned my call and also got busy.

FBI Arrives

My conversations with him and the White House took place at approximately 12 noon, E.S.T. At 2 p.m., Prof. Charles Haynie, mathematics teacher at Franklin Marshall College in Pennsylvania telephoned from Somerville, Tenn., to say that poll watchers were still being kicked out of polling places and the FBI had not turned up.

He reported that election officials appointed by the local Democratic committee were dumping surplus ballots into the boxes and not tearing numbered stubs off ballots, but leaving them on so they could see how people voted.

At 4 p.m., E.S.T., Prof. Haynie called again to say that the FBI still had not arrived, that high-handed practices were continuing and that civil rights workers were powerless to do anything, despite a permanent injunction from U.S. Judge Marion Boyd to prevent the secretary of the Democratic executive committee from intimidating Negro voters.

At 5 p.m., Rosenthal phoned from the Justice Department to say that the FBI had gone promptly to Sommerville. At 5:45 p.m., Prof. Haynie called from Tennessee to report that two FBI men had arrived from Memphis, and informed him that they were not there to provide any protection for election workers or to visit the polls to check on election irregularities; but to interview only two people—John McFerren, leader of the local Negro movement and a Mr. Stokes, attorney for the group.

Stokes was in Memphis and the FBI had just come from Memphis. McFerren was one of the few Negroes accepted as a poll watcher and refused to leave his post for very long.

Black Muslims Urge Bullets

"They came around in the afternoon," McFerren told this column, referring to the FBI, "but I was a poll watcher and I told them I wasn't going to leave my spot until the entire election was over. I wanted to make sure I counted everyone who voted. I haven't seen them since."

Thus the FBI travelled all the way from Memphis to Sommerville to interview two men, one of whom was in Memphis, and the other was too busy to be interviewed.

Commenting on the election, McFerren said: "The people in charge knows that nobody is supposed to talk once they get their ballots inside the polls. But all the whites would come in groups and stand there and tell each other how to vote. But if the Negroes went in together, they were warned not to talk or their ballots would be thrown out."

"They stole the election by stuffing the ballot boxes," said Ralph Naden, a law student at New York University. "In District 8 (Oakland) for instance, 51 whites and 88 Negroes were counted entering the polls during the entire day. Yet when the votes were counted, the tally showed 201 votes for Pattat and 72 votes for Redfern." (The two candidates for sheriff.)

"We spent $16,000 on this drive to register voters and we lost all because nobody up there in the Justice Department would answer their phones," said Prof. Haynie.

"The Black Muslims are down here and are talking to the local Negroes that the only way to win this thing is by bullets, not votes. They say shoot the sheriff and all the other whites.

"How can I persuade them otherwise when they see what is happening to their ballots?"

The final returns showed that Redfearn and Dowdy, the two civil rights candidates, lost by 1670 and 1693 respectively to 3366 and 3306.

The Negro registration was 4,300, the white registration about 3,400.

Note — In the statewide primary, Rep. Ross Bass, who voted for civil rights, defeated three times Governor Frank Clement for the Senate Democratic nomination.

The World Today

Marvels of Political Adjustment

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the marvels of politics is the way politicians can adjust to situations.

Take this Republican unity meeting today at Hershey, Pa. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential nominee, sent out the invitations to Republican governors and gubernatorial nominees.

Just a few weeks ago, Scranton was doing his best to keep the presidential nomination away from Goldwater. He went about the country saying Goldwater should be rejected, that "we need in the White House a leader who thinks clearly, who doesn't shoot from the hip."

For another illustration of how a politician can rise above strong words, look at Goldwater himself.

"Having opposed civil rights until this year, let him make an issue of it. I'll just repeat back to him the thousands of words he has spoken.

"Lyndon Johnson is the biggest faker in the United States. He's the phoniest individual that ever came around."

Before the month was out, Goldwater and Johnson sat down in the White House and talked about the civil rights issue, how to keep from inflaming racial passions.

Goldwater told newsmen the atmosphere at the meeting was good, "we're good friends. We're old political friends."

One of the classic examples of a politician sidestepping a heat-of-the campaign remark came in February 1941, when Wendell L. Willkie was questioned by a senate committee.

Willkie had run against Franklin D. Roosevelt for president the year before and had declared that, "On the basis of Roosevelt's past performance with pledges to the people, you may expect that we will be at war by April 1941, if he is elected."

Willkie was asked at the committee hearing, "Do you still agree that might be the case?" He replied:

"It might be. It was a bit of campaign oratory."

To cap this discussion of political flexibility, there is a story that former Rep. Brooks Hays of Arkansas tells.

A congressman's friend told him, "Jim, I've just come back from your district and Bill Jones is going to run against you."

"Well, I'm not surprised," the congressman said. "He is a dirty skunk and there is no good in him."

"And furthermore," the friend said, "Charlie Smith is going to help him run."

"They're two of a kind," the congressman reacted. "Scoundrels, both of them."

Then the friend broke down and admitted he had been teasing. He had made up the whole story, that, in fact, Bill and Charlie were both strong for the congressman's re-election.

Reproachfully, the congressman told his caller:

"Now look what you've done. You've made me say ugly things about two of the finest, sweetest characters who ever lived."

James Marlow, who regularly writes this column, is on vacation.

Successful Future For Oxygen Breathing Device

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., Newspaper Enterprise Association

The oxygen in the air we breathe keeps us going. When a person needs more than he can get normally, he can be placed in an oxygen tent or can use an oxygen mask.

Now from Holland comes a device which shows great promise. It consists of a tank large enough to serve as a complete operating room, into which pure oxygen can be pumped.

The many uses to which such a tank can be put include the treatment of carbon monoxide poisoning, decompression sickness or bends, gas gangrene, tetanus, apopletic strokes and shock. It has also been found to enhance the effectiveness of X-ray treatments for cancer.

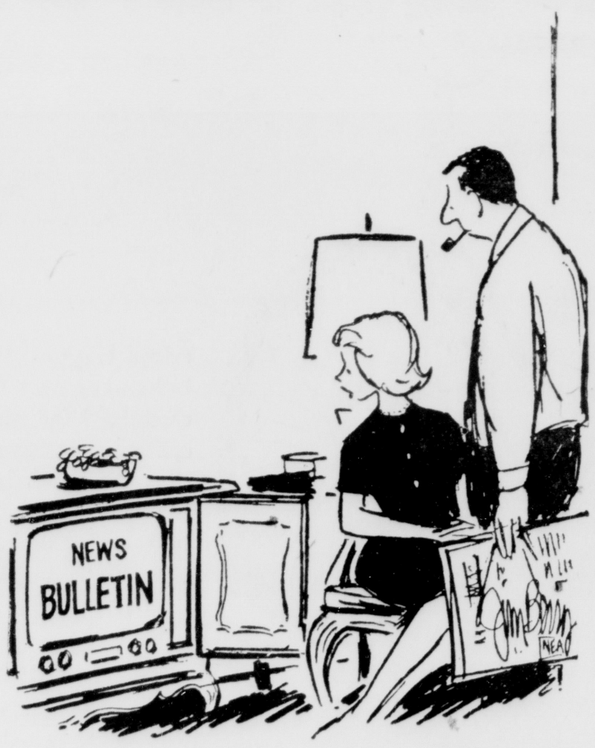

ch[illegible] c[illegible] characterized by a insufficiency of oxygen, such as decompensation of the heart, improvement is noted only while the victim remains in the tank. For such a person, the oxygen mask or tent is still the best mode of treatment.

Perhaps the tank's greatest success to date has been its use in heart surgery, especially on children with congenital defects. An operation is started at sea level pressure, then the pressure and oxygen concentration are increased so that the system is drenched in pure oxygen for 10 minutes. This not only doubles the oxygen saturation in the blood, it also enables the plasma to carry 15 times as much oxygen as it does under normal conditions.

This means that tissues can get oxygen from the plasma instead of from the red blood cells and operations can be performed that would otherwise require marked lowering of the body temperature. Other applications of the tank are being investigated.

At present the chief disadvantage is that the apparatus is very expensive. There are also certain potential hazards that must be studied. Rigid safeguards against explosion, fire and sudden accidental loss of pressure must be built into the tanks. Furthermore, too great a concentration of oxygen in the blood can damage the retina and other delicate nerve cells. Safe limits, which may vary from one individual to another, have yet to be determined.

Who Sees Psychiatrist?

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: I recently found a filthy, obscene letter in my 15-year-old girl's sweater pocket. I am sure she wrote it to herself though she denies this. Never can I trust her again. Should she see a psychiatrist. I don't dare tell her father about the letter or my suspicion that she wrote it. She has a problem of overweight and an oily skin. But I can't make her stick to a diet. I am now at my wits' end . . .

Answer: First, you see a psychiatrist. You need his help with your shock at this letter. You also need his guidance in persuading your child to consult him. We just can't grab 15-year-old people and haul them off to see psychiatrists. Their own wish to see them has to be respected.

In the meantime, let me remark that writing herself a letter of this kind does not make your daughter into a nasty girl. If your suspicion is correct, its self-addressed nastiness simply tells us that she regards herself as a nasty girl.

At her age the young struggle with many doubts of their lovableness. They are not used to the sexual changes which are taking place in their bodies. Your daughter's changing body is humiliating her with the ugliness of overweight and oily skin. So her adolescent distrust of it seems to have become contempt and scorn. Deeply discouraged by the shaming ugliness which it is imposing on her, she may have expressed the disgust she feel for it by writing of it disgustingly.

I am not minimizing the probability that she needs psychiatric help. I think she does. What I'm minimizing is the emphasis you put on nasty sexuality of this letter.

Its sexuality is not the problem. The problem is the self-scorn of your child. And that is not a new problem. It is an old problem. It has expressed itself in sexual self-contempt because adolescence is an age which sexualizes all attitudes toward ourselves.

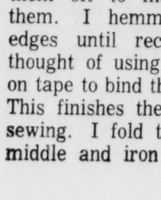

I think you know that in your daughter self-scorn has been a generally unhappy feeling for some time. What you may not know is that the intensity of your horror at this letter is the explosion of much accumulated worry over her unhappiness.

If the letter has served to make you conscious of your wish for guidance in helping your daughter, it was a blessing that it got written, wasn't it?

Certainly Not 'Old Hat'

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY—I am a retired mechanic who reads the column every day. Someone wrote about making aprons out of old neckties and, since then, I certainly have had a good time making aprons of all descriptions. I would like to share my method for renovating straw and felt hats that are too good to discard. I cut the brims off to about 3 and 1-16ths of an inch wider than I want them to be finished. Then I thoroughly soak the edge, turn it back and press with a medium warm iron. After that I stitch around the edge twice. If the hat originally had a grosgrain ribbon edge, I carefully rip it off and sew it back on the narrower brim. I clean the hat with a good cleaning fluid and spray the straw ones with a clear liquid shoe polish and they are good as new.—SHERM

DEAR POLLY — When my daughters' jeans started to wear out at the knees I used to cut them off to make shorts for them. I hemmed the cut-off edges until recently, when I thought of using strips of iron-on tape to bind these raw edges. This finishes them without any sewing. I fold the tape in the middle and iron it on so it is half on the inside and half outside. It makes a very smooth finish with little trouble.—GERALDINE

DEAR POLLY—If you use a ladder in a tree and it is hard to keep the ladder steady, replace the top rung with a length of chain that will fit around the tree trunk. Secure it to the ladder with sturdy hooks.

Before you hammer a stake into the ground, put a small tin can over the top of the stake and it will not splinter.—MRS. M. E. C.

DEAR POLLY—When polishing tennis shoes, the polish goes on more smoothly if the material is damp. Wash the shoes and then polish about an hour later when they are still damp. —EMMA

Require 'Phenacetin' To Carry a Warning

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration will require drugs containing the painkiller Phenacetin to carry labels warning that kidney damage may result from exceeding recommended dosage.

The regulation, effective in 60 days, was announced Saturday and applied to drugs sold without prescription.

When used as recommended, FDA said, Phenacetin is considered a safe and useful analgesic. The labeling change was recommended by a special advisory committee of scientists.

Executive Director For Church Council

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Rev. Walter B. Price of St. Joseph, Mich., will become executive director of the Missouri Council of Churches Oct. 1.

The council said the Rev. Mr. Price has accepted a call to succeed the Rev. Stanley I. Stuber, who resigned to enter other work.

The Rev. Mr. Price has been executive director of the Berrien County, Michigan Council of churches since 1950. He is a graduate of Mississippi College and the Colgate-Rochester Divinity School.

GOP Sure Of 13 State House Seats

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Republicans have cornered 13 seats in the 1965 Missouri House of Representatives and the Democrats have assured themselves of 12.

But unofficial returns showed today there were some casualties along the way, some of them veterans. The present $4,800 a year salary drew stiff competition in many areas.

Eleven Democratic incumbents lost out in the Aug. 4 primary and nine Republicans got beaten, too.

Rep. Chris C. Cole, D-Pulaski County, had served since 1957 and was chairman of the committee on accounts, purchasing and clerical hire—the one that spends the House's money. But he got whipped by Jim Arnold of Waynesville.

Rep. James McKinley Neal, D-Jackson County, a Negro who has represented his race in the House since 1947, got beaten by another Negro, Leon M. Jordan, in the county's 4th District.

And Rep. Harry Keller, who at 81 had served Jackson County's 8th district since 1951, was displaced by Phillip P. Scaglia.

Other Democrats who lost their legislative positions in the primary included:

Reps. Jennie Chinn of Shelby County, Harry Goldberg of Jackson County, Wendell P. Rosenbaugh of Clay County, George Weatherly of Jackson CCounty, Owen R. Jackson of Ralls County, Irwin Zwibelman of St. Louis County, Les Lankford of Scott County and Hugh J. White of St. Louis City.

Rep. J. S. Lincoln, R-Harrison County, a regular in legislative halls since 1949, got dumped by the GOP. The Republican nominee in his stead is M.C. Bauer of Bethany.

And Rep. Noel G. Hughes, a Republican representing Dade County since 1951, was beaten by Ralph Melton of Dadeville.

Other Republicans dropped by the wayside in the primary included:

Reps. G. Harvey Simmons of Daviess County, Thomas E. Caton of Oregon County, Oscar L. Harsh of Lewis County, Lucian T. Mace of Miller County, Roger E. Kirchner of Morgan County and Marple S. Wyckoff of Putnam County.

These 12 Democrats, including 10 incumbents, are automatically elected to the Legislature since they have no general election opposition:

Rep. Bernard (Doc) Simcoe of Callaway County, Rep. W. D. Hibler of Chariton County, Rep. Charles B. James of Dunklin County, either Richard Decoster or William R. Quinn of Lewis County (the primary result was still in doubt today), Rep. Edward M. Cannon of Lincoln County, Rep. David Rolwing of Mississippi County, Rep. Richard Southern of Monroe County, Rep. Fred E. Copeland of New Madrid County, Rep. W. Roy Groce of Ray County, Rep. James C. Skaggs of Reynolds County, Rep. James I. Spainhower of Saline County and Tony Heckemeyer of Scott County. These 13 Republicans, including nine incumbents, are automatically sent to the 1965 Legislature.

Rep. Cloy E. Whitney of Adair County, Rep. Guss C. Salley of Benton County, Ralph Melton of Dade County, Rep. C. M. Bassman of Gasconade County, Shelby King of Hickory County, John A. Callow of Holt County, Rep. John T. Russell of Laclede County, Rep. George Duensing Jr. of Lafayette County, Rep. George St. Peter of Mercer County, the Republican nominee in Ozark County (apparently Mrs. Sue Nell Gault, widow of Rep. Henry Gault), Rep. Elva D. Hann of Polk County, Rep. Vernon M. James of Taney County and Rep. Granvil B. Vaughan of Howell County.

The other candidates for the 163-member House have general election opposition, some only token and some fierce.

The minority Republicans have been contending they can wrest control of the House from the Democrats who have bossed the show there since 1955.

The Democrats think they can stay in power.

It will take the November election to settle the argument.

CONVENTIONS AND CRISES/ The Democrats

by Don Oakley and Ed Kudlaty

The nation was still suffering from the effects of the business depression of 1893 when the Democratic Party met in national conclave in Chicago in July 1896.

The "Gay '90s" were anything but that for millions of Americans struggling under low wages and long hours—if they were lucky enough to have jobs.

A strong third party had come on the political scene in 1891—the Populist—an amalgam of farmers and laborers. Chief among its aims, which included the graduated income tax and eight-hour day, was to base the monetary system on silver rather than gold. This, the Populists believed, would solve the nation's economic woes. In the elections of 1892, they polled more than a million votes.

As so often before, the Democrats were divided. Democratic President Grover Cleveland stood solidly for the gold standard but was opposed by the majority of his party.

As the convention opened, the battle between the free-silverites and hard-money men was joined over the seating of delegations. Silver quickly proved stronger than gold.

Then the young leader of the Nebraska delegation, William Jennings Bryan, was asked to address the delegates. Only 36, Bryan was a former congressman who had opposed Cleveland's gold policy and won fame as a spellbinding speaker. The "Boy Orator" with the silver tongue (but not throat of gold) delivered one of the most famous speeches in American history, ending with the memorable lines:

"You shall not press down upon the brow of labor this crown of thorns; you shall not crucify mankind upon a cross of gold!"

The convention went wild and nominated Bryan on the fifth ballot.

In the campaign of 1896, eight parties were in the field. Even the Prohibitionists had split in two over the money issue. Gold Democrats had bolted to form the National Democrats.

Bryan had the support of the Populists and National Silver Party as well as the Democrats. He traveled 18,000 miles and made hundreds of speeches in a hard-hitting campaign. His Republican opponent, William McKinley, did not stir from his front porch in Canton, Ohio, but left the campaigning up to the man who had guided his nomination, Cleveland tycoon Mark Hanna.

Yet in the end, the voters chose McKinley's "Full Dinner Pail" over a silver lining in the sky.

Old Salt Mines As Graveyards For Nuclear Fission Products

By BOB KISTLER
The Hutchinson News
For The Associated Press

LYONS, Kan. (AP) — More than 1,000 feet into the earth's innards, two men kneel at a steel-lined hole. As they talk, lights from their helmets chase each other across walls of a glistening cavern.

They are surrounded by what chemists call sodium chloride. At the dinner table, it's salt, a vital element for human and animal existence.

And it may prove to be the best insulator between man and one of his most potentially dangerous creations—atomic wastes the residue from "burning" uranium.

At the deactivated Carey Salt Co. mine here, scientists from Oak Ridge, Tenn., national laboratories are preparing for a demonstration unique in American science. They hope to prove that defunct salt mines are adequate graveyards for nuclear fission products, the excrement of atomic reactors.

Fleming Empson, in charge of the Lyons project for Union Carbide Corp., sees the problem of disposal as more than an interesting scientific question:

"Basically, it's a moral problem. Man is now producing a substance which could potentially destroy his environment. It (atomic waste) has a life span which will outlive society as we know it today. Our problem is to isolate it from man and his environment—to render it harmless."

The idea that salt might be used to entomb highly radioactive wastes was first considered at a meeting of scientists at Princeton University in 1955.

Then the problem was the safe disposal of liquid, not solid, wastes. Some of the first experiments were made at the Carey mine in Hutchinson between 1959 and 1961.

Simulated radioactive substances were tested. The results while generally successful, were not conclusive. A means of transforming liquid wastes into solids was developed while the Hutchinson operation was in progress. The Lyons project is attacking the question of disposal of solids.

The problem is far from immediate. There is not a feeling of frantic, hurried search for an answer at Lyons.

"We believe one of the greatest factors in our tests," said Empson, "is that we feel we will have shown that we have the solution to the problem 10 years before the need becomes acute."

Target date to begin the last series of tests—the only demonstration which will actually employ radioactive material — is June 1, 1965.

The salt company, which leases the mine to the Oak Ridge laboratories, has contracted to complete four new rooms, passageway and "waste shaft" by then. Two of the rooms will be 30 by 60 feet; the others, 40 by 60. All will be 14 feet high.

The proposed demonstration will work basically like this:

Radioactive reactor fuel elements will be shipped from Oak Ridge—either by truck or train — to the Lyons site. Waste products will not be used in the test because they will not be available in solid form that soon. The atomic fuel will be the same as is now used at the Oak Ridge reactor and will simulate atomic waste conditions.

The material will be lowered to the mine laboratory through a "waste shaft (20 inches in diameter) 1.047 feet below ground. The shaft is now complete and resembles a steel-lined straw.

From there it will be transferred to seven testing vaults bored into salt. When finally put to rest, the "hot" material will be intricately shielded by telescoping stainless steel casings.

For 18 months the effects of heat and radiation upon the salt casket will be tested and retested.

A dangerous operation(Empson and his assistant, Dr. William McClain, a native of Wichita, don't think so.

"Of course, you always have to be careful when handling radioactive material," Empson said, "but you have to remember that the people who will transfer this stuff and carry out experiments have been specially trained. Each step in the process has to pass specifications set up by the Atomic Energy Commission."

Empson and McClain recently completed the first seven-week phase of a prototype experiment which simulated those condition under which they will work next year.

Electric heaters were used in place of atomic fuel and both scientists believe their findings are in line with those expected from other, "above ground" laboratory tests.

One key to success in the experiments is controlling the maximum temperature of the salt which houses the capsules.

"The distance between capsules controls the maximum temperature," Dr. McClain said. "For example, if we don't want the salt to get hotter than 392 degrees (F), we keep the samples five feet apart. Using that distance in our last experiment, the highest temperature recorded was 386.6 degrees.

Are there enough defunct mines in the country to take care of America's problem?

Dr. McClain grinned.

"We estimate that one square mile of a salt bed will take care of all of the country's waste accumulated between 20 and 80 years," he said.

Estimated cost of disposing of the material is far from complete, but it is believed that for every 1.5 cents it takes to produce one kilowatt-hour of atomic electric power, cost of disposal would be about two-thousandths of a cent.

Sedalia's PTP Plans First Picnic

With the starting of the new school year in the colleges in this area and foreign students arriving soon, the Sedalia Chapter of the People to People organization are making plans that none of these people will return to their countries and say that they have not been in an American home and have not had an opportunity to meet the people of this country except on the college campus as some of them have in the past.

The officers of Sedalia Chapter, People to People, met Monday evening and made plans for a picnic, the date of which will be decided later, for the first event. Students of all ages from other countries will be brought to Sedalia where the people of Pettis county may meet them and perhaps form friendships with some they may like to entertain sometime through the year. The students who will be guests at the picnic will be from Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, and two of the People to People officers from here who went to the college to offer the services of the chapter were told that it would be particularly appreciated if some of the people of Pettis County would share their holiday activities, Thanksgiving and Christmas, with these students from other countries.

Entertaining them for the weekend, too, was suggested, or just for dinner some Sunday or some evening.

The picnic will not be something just for members of the People to People Chapter but for anyone in Sedalia or surrounding area who would like to meet these foreign students. The officers feel that food enough for each family and two extra people to be brought by those wanting to participate, will take care of those who will be coming by bus from the college.

Indefinite plans are to have the picnic sometime in September, on a weekend, perhaps Sunday, and the Catholic Community Center is being considered a place to have it.

The officers held the first planning meeting for the picnic at the home of Mrs. J. M. Cunningham, 1605 West 16th, second vice - president. Present were Mrs. Neil Chapman, first vice-president, Mrs. T. J. Hopkins, treasurer and Mrs. Alvin Heynen, secretary. Ralph Walker, president, was unable to be present.
